Deercreek Project May Be Expanded

Another step forward in the proposed Deercreek dam project, a part of the Scioto River Basin flood control project, was announced today by Rep. William H.
Harsha, Ohio Sixth District congressman.

Harsha, appearing before the House subcommittee on the Omnibus Public Works Bill, said a favorable opinion was expressed toward expansion of the proposed Deercreek project. The Ohio congressman said money figures quoted amounted to $500,000, a significant increase over the original total contemplated for this area.

According to Harsha, the expansion funds would be earmarked for water fall and improved hunting and fishing recreation within the Deercreek project boundaries.

The proposed Deercreek dam and allied reservoir area would be in a northerly direction between Williamsport and New Holland and would extend into Fayette County and a small portion of Madison County.

ALTHOUGH Harsha expressed satisfaction with today's contemplated expansion, he noted that the bill must now go before the full House committee, then on to the House for final action. Final action still remains in the Senate.

Estimated costs for all projects within the Scioto Basin have been set down at $55.8 million. Harsha's statement today did not include any details regarding expansion for other projects within the basin.

Eight projects within the Scioto Basin have been mapped by the Army's District Engineer office in Huntington, W. Va.

Extensive study has been devoted to the projects by the Scioto Conservancy District which was reorganized about a year ago.

sport community is one of three directors of the organization.

No Settlement Reached in Suit

A 7-year-old dispute over road and bridge changes in Walnut Twp.
today awaited Common Pleas Court action following an unsuccessful attempt to settle an $8,500 suit out of court.

The suit for damages, now back in court where it started, was filed Oct. 2, 1961, by J. Arthur Sark and Dolly M. Sark, Route 1, Ashville. Their petition charged the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners with responsibility for alleged water damages occurring between 1954 and 1955 on their property along Little Walnut Creek.

It is claimed about six years ago
the Commission approved removal of a covered bridge on the Circleville. Groveport Road over Little Walnut Creek. The plaintiffs contend that a new span erected to replace the old has caused water to overflow their land.

Following a recommendation by Common Pleas Court, an attempt was made last week to settle out of court. However, a meeting between the County Commission,
Sark and his attorneys, Emmitt Crist and Lemuel Weldon, failed to produce an agreement.

SARK, willing to settle out of court, requested the Commission to authorize erection of a levy which he alleges would correct the flooding of his land. The Commission, contending that the flooding existed prior to building of the new bridge, refused.

They also indicated that construction of such a levy would set a precedent for future cases of similar nature. Commission Chairman Charles Morris and Prosecutor Robert H. Huffer have been notified of the Board's stand.

The Sark petition, as filed Oct.
2 of last year in the Clerk of Courts office, seeks judgment of $8,500 against defendant Commissioners Morris, Michel and Melvin together with interest, costs of suit and other rights entitled by law.

There was no indication today when court action would be taken on the pending suit.

New Farm Bill Given Kennedy

Measure Contains Half of Requests

WASHINGTON (AP)—President
Kennedy has received from Congress a new farm program containing about half of what he requested and denounced by a Republican leader as "bait in the trap" for tougher controls later.

The bill barreled through the Senate 52 to 41 Tuesday—an almost comfortable margin after its cliff-hanging five-vote victory in the House last week.

All 34 Republicans voting opposed the measure. They were joined by seven Democrats.

During five hours of debate the program was praised as realistic and fair, and condemned as a monstrosity and worse than no bill at all.

The administration has welcomed the measure as a step in the right direction.

Here is what the administration got and didn't get:

It got a new and permanent wheat program which it expects to be more effective in limiting production and stabilizing grower prices.

It got broadened authority to deal with problems of stagnating rural areas incapable of prospering in agriculture.

It failed to get a control program for feed grains. Congress approved a one-year extension of the present voluntary feed grain retirement program paying farmers to idle their land.

The wheat program is the administration's first major commodity legislative victory since it took office.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has said that a new

Second Largest Nuclear Blast Fired by Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has fired the second largest nuclear explosion of its current series of tests in the Ar-

Energy Commission reports.

The blast, in the Siberian No-described as slightly higher in yield than the multistage test conducted on Sept. 19.

A megaton is equivalent in force to a million tons of TNT.

Copters Lift Survivors Off Rescue Ship

Injured Airliner Passengers Taken to U.S. Clinic in Britain

CORK, Ireland (AP)—Two British helicopters plucked 17 injured survivors of a ditched American airliner off the Swiss rescue ship Celerina today for hospitalization at a U.S. Air Force base in Britain.

The 9,041-ton freighter, still carrying 27 others it rescued after a Flying Tiger Super Constellation plunged into the white-capped Atlantic with 76 persons Sunday night, headed on to Antwerp, Belgium, its next port of call.

The U.S. Army in Europe prepared to send medical and other aid to Antwerp for the group, American service men and their wives, whose flight from the United States ended with a forced landing in the sea 500 miles west of Ireland.

The Canadian aircraft carrier Bonaventure, which is bearing four other survivors, radioed that it expects to reach the Shannon River estuary about 9 a.m. Thursday. The carrier originally planned to arrive late today, but said it was running low on fuel and had to reduce speed.

Many of those who lived through the ditching were suffering from chemical burns, a skin inflammation caused by contact with gasoline which spilled into the sea when the plane was wrenched apart. There was no fire.

The Celerina had radioed that some of the 44 persons it picked up needed to be taken to shore hospitals quickly.

The hazardous air-sea operation by the two Royal Air Force helicopters centered 30 miles off the Irish coast.

The bright yellow copters hovered 30 feet above the freighter —which pitched in a heavy swell and 30-mile-an-hour wind—while the injured were winched off the deck and up into the flying ambulances.

Three of the injured were strapped to stretchers.

The helicopters made two round trips apiece to the Celerina. Wait-

Pair Debates Cars, Savings Go Down Drain

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John Parris wanted to buy one car. His wife wanted to buy another.

They argued Tuesday as they drove.

Suddenly Mrs. Parris gesture with the sack containing the family savings. "Buying that car," she said, speaking of her husband's choice, "would be like throwing money away."

Out the car window went the sack of money. It disappeared down a storm drain. In it, said Parris, was $2,500 in cash.

Parris slammed the car to a halt. Mrs. Parris jumped out, lunged for the money—and almost got stuck in the drain herself.

They could see the sack, lying 15 feet away.

Parris called friends, sheriff's deputies and a road department crew to help him.

As they tried to reach the sack with sticks, a plumber's snake and a fishline, an attendant at a nearby gas station decided it was time to wash down his driveway with a hose. The water poured into a drain, down the drain, and to the sack.

As the would-be rescuers watched helplessly, the sack floated away.

Parris and his wife drove away
—in their old car.

Cincy Drug Firm Named In $200,000 Lawsuit

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Wm.
S. Merrell Co. of Reading faces another U.S. District Court suit for damages involving alleged side effects of a drug, Mer-29.

An attorney for George E.
Toomey, Fort Worth, Tex., filed suit for $200,000 Tuesday, claiming the drug, prescribed by Toomey's doctor to lower his blood cholesterol, gave him cataracts of both eyes, falling hair and chafed skin.

U.S. Sees Soviet-Built Cuba Port As Threat to Panama Canal Zone

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. defense sources said today they believe the port to be built in Cuba with Soviet assistance is a camouflage for a naval base which could threaten the Panama Canal.

They said a port equipped to overhaul, repair, and supply Soviet and Cuban trawlers could also serve as a support base for submarines and torpedo boats.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro unveiled the plans for a port in a television speech Tuesday. He didn't specify the location but a later communique announcing signing of the Soviet-Cuban agreement said the dock and facilities for between 115 and 10 medium

trawlers would be in Havana Bay.

It was reported in Havana that Soviet crews would instruct Cuban crews in the use of Soviet trawlers and that the fleet ultimately would become the property of Cuba.

Many of the Soviet Union's 3,000 trawlers are anything but purely fishing craft. They are known to carry radar and other electronic equipment with which they have monitored U.S. missile test shots from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and have observed U.S. fleet maneuvers.

The small flotilla of Soviet trawlers which arrived in Havana last summer is equipped with electronic detection equipment.

Some military authorities said construction of a Soviet port in Cuba appears part of a worldwide plan to position Soviet naval power where it could pinch off key Allied shipping routes.

Castro announced the pact Tuesday, saying the Russians would furnish credits for building large docking and freeing facilities. He said the Soviet trawler fleet would have use of the facilities for at least 10 years.

A Cuban commentator on a nationwide television broadcast declared the facilities would be "a Cuban port on Cuban property."

He ridiculed reports he said were circulating in Miami that Russians would control the port.

The commentator praised the Soviet Union for extending credits to finance more than half the cost of the 12-million peso project.

He said this contrasted with the trade policy of the United States before Castro came to power. He asserted the United States then was interested only in buying Cuban sugar and tobacco and tried to choke off Cuban rice production in favor of American producers.

A communique reported the fishing port would provide facilities for from 115 to 210 medium trawlers.

The communique said the port would include piers, refrigerators, and ice factory, supply depots, shops, a floating dock, fuel supply stations and a radio station.

Appeals Judge Gets Promotion

Griffith Is Appointed To Ohio's High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov.
Michael V. DiSalle appointed Appellate Judge Lynn B. Griffith of Warren today to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Judge Griffith succeeds Supreme Court Judge James F.
Bell of London whose recent resignation is effective Oct. 8.

Judge Griffith will serve on the high court until a successor is elected and qualified in the November election in 1964. Bell's term expires Dec. 1, 1966. His term started Jan. 1, 1961.

The new Supreme Court judge graduated from Oberlin College and received his law degree from Western Reserve University.

After practicing law in Warren, he became city solicitor and later became Trumbull County prosecutor. He was elected Common Pleas Court judge in 1930 and served for 19 years.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche appointed him to the 7th District Court of Appeals in 1950. Appellate judges last week elected Judge
Griffith chief justice of Ohio Courts of Appeal for 1963.

Judge and Mrs. Griffith have two sons and a daughter. Lynn B. Jr. is Trumbull County prosecutor and the other son David, is an assistant prosecutor.

The 7th Appellate District embraces 13 counties in northeastern Ohio. This district extends from Lake and Ashtabula counties on Lake Erie to Monroe and Noble counties to the south.

Home Blazes Add Troubles To St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Fire destroyed three homes Tuesday night as scores of officers continued to patrol troubled suburban Kinloch, scene of a demonstration by a mob incensed over the police killing of a Negro youth.

Kinloch Mayor Clarence Lee called the fires the work of arson-ists. There were no injuries.

Police early today arrested two of three men seen fleeing from a house fire.

Officers said Joseph Houston, 23 admitted setting four fires. He was charged on suspicion of arson. Police said Daniel Carter, 16, admitted setting one fire. He was turned over to juvenile authorities.

A shotgun blast wounded three white officers and a Negro bystander Tuesday morning as the officers moved to break up a crowd of about 200 Negroes. None of the wounded was hurt critically.

Negroes had gathered near the police station, shouting, "We want Mason." Chief of Police Roosevelt Hoskins said "there was a lot of yelling and scuffling. They began calling names at the policemen."

The violence in the all-Negro community stemmed from the shooting of Darnell Dortch, 20, by police officer Israel Mason, 74, Sunday, Mason, a Negro, resigned
Tuesday. He said Dortch refused to accept a careless driving warrant and was shot as they fought for possession of Mason's pistol.

ANOTHER BUILDING COMES DOWN — The Trinity Lutheran Church, E. Mound St., is currently being torn down to make way for an entirely new house of worship. Rev. Carl Zehner, pastor of the church, said today that workmen found several grave markers used as foundation stones in construction of the church shortly after the turn of the century. The church is built on the site of an ancient burial grounds. Completion date of the new edifice is tentatively set for December 1963. The Don King Construction Co., Jackson, has the demolition contract.

Half-a-Loaf Tax Bill Ready For Congress' Consideration

WASHINGTON (AP)—A half-a-loaf tax bill, giving President Kennedy the business-boosting change he recommended but less than the counterbalancing revenue he asked, was ready today for Congress and the White House to consider.

There was every indication the House, the Senate and the President would accept the measure.
It was hammered out in four days of work, running into Tuesday night, by a conference committee charge with reconciling the different bills passed by the two chambers. The House will act first, one day next week.

The heart of the measure, a tax credit of more than $1 billion for businesses willing to spend money on modernizing and improving their equipment, was retained.

The administration has earnestly pleaded for this investment credit, designed as a quick shot in the arm for the U. S. economy and, in the long pull, as a means of helping U. S. businesses match their modernized — and tax-favored — competitors abroad.

The big casualty, doomed by the Senate, was the plan to withhold income taxes on interest and dividends. The Treasury had hoped to collect by this means as much as $780 million a year in tax revenue now lost because of nonreporting.

The Senate, bombarded with adverse mail, struck out the withholding provision the House had voted. The conference committee went along, but in accepting the Senate substitute, a requirement for more elaborate reporting by the firms paying interest and dividends, the conferees directed the Treasury to report annually on the effectiveness of this device, stimulated to be worth $240 million a year in recouped revenue.

Under the investment credit provision, a company could deduct directly from its taxes, subject to some limitations, up to 7 per cent of what is spent for equipment and machinery. Utilities would be held to a per cent deduction. The conference committee made the provision retroactive to Jan. 1, 1962, thus greatly increasing the over-all revenue cost of the bill for its first year.

Congressional sources estimated the first year net loss at $1. billion, leveling off thereafter at $545 million a year. Kennedy's original proposal was estimated by the treasury to net an increase of $600 million a year.

The compromise bill would tighten appreciably — though not nearly so much as Kennedy recommended — the tax deduction rules applying to business entertainment, travel and gifts.

600 Reported Dead, Missing Near Barcelona

Flash Floods, Winds
Rip Village; 246
Bodies Recovered

BARCELONA, Spain (AP)— Flash floods and hurricane winds ripped overnight through a group of villages in a hilly region near Barcelona and a government spokesman said more than 600 persons are dead or missing.

The spokesman said 246 bodies have been recovered and 95 persons are unaccounted for.

across the area, where several hours of heavy rain and high winds smashed many homes and other building.

Officials said the death toll might rise.

Several villages, whose residents normally worked in textile plants near Barcelona, were almost wiped out by the floods, which followed months of dry weather.

The floods struck a few hours after the windup of a Barcelona religious festival, named Nuestra Senora de la Merced—Our Lady of Mercy—which runs for a week each fall. The event had included a song festival with entrants from many nations.

The victims included families who were sleeping. Their houses caved in and trapped them under the debris.

Barcelona was caught in a torrential downpour which quickly flooded the Ripoll and San Quirico rivers.

Rushing water toppled buildings and roared through streets.
Similar floods struck nearby towns.

At first, Barcelona people welcomed the rain because it was the first in nearly four months. But the downpour continued and about midnight people living in downtown districts began climbing to the highest stories of buildings trying to escape the swirling waters.

Many of Barcelona's two million inhabitants were breadless because bakeries were flooded. The drinking water was lacking in many districts.

Polio Chief's Criticism Irks Ohio Medics

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The medical men in charge of Dayton's Sabin Sunday coming up this weekend expressed amazement and chagrin at statements in Washington by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, criticizing mass oral polio vaccine programs.

O'Connor, repeatedly critical of the Public Health Service's recommendations for mass immunization, said Tuesday that Salk killed poliovirus vaccine already has eliminated the polio virus in the United States. Therefore, he said, giving the Sabin polio vaccine is "nothing but a waste of time."

Dr. Charles Kagay, co-chairman of the Dayton-Montgomery County mass Sabin immunization program in which 500,000 doses are ready for Sunday's "customers," strongly disagreed with O'Con-nor's opinion. He said studies throughout the nation have shown that the polio virus is still present and, indeed, "quite common."

Husband-Slayer Is Found Guilty

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Rebecca Young, 37, has been convicted of second-degree murder for the shotgun slaying of her husband, Grover.

Mrs. Young had admitted shooting her husband, putting his body in the trunk of the family car and leaving the car parked in a lot behind the Lorain police station.

Her attorneys, in closing arguments to the jury, described Young, 39, as a drunkard, a wife beater and a sex deviant.

The prosecution accused Mrs.
Young of telling seven conflicting stories and said the woman stood to gain more than $30,000 in insurance as a result of her husband's death.

No Settlement Reached in Suit

A 7-year-old dispute over road and bridge changes in Walnut Twp. today awaited Common Pleas Court action following an unsuccessful attempt to settle an $8,500 suit out of court.

The suit for damages, now back in court where it started, was filed Oct. 2, 1961, by J. Arthur Sark and Dolly M. Sark, Route 1, Ashville. Their petition charged the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners with responsibility for alleged water damages occurring between 1954 and 1955 on their property along Little Walnut Creek.

Polio Vaccine Plan Delayed

Drs. H. H. Swope and Frank Moore today reminded Pickaway County that the Sabin oral polio vaccine will not be administered this Sunday as previously scheduled.

The mass immunization program has been delayed until November 4 due to a recent controversy over effects of the drug.

The local physicians, co-chairmen of the program here, said the extra time will allow for clarification of any doubts concerning the drug.

The oral vaccine will be administered at seven "clinics" set up in schools throughout the county on Sunday November 4.

Meanwhile the Medical Society and local health departments will be working on the program aimed at immunizing every resident of Circleville and Pickaway County.

PUCO OKs Merger For General Tele

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Utilities Commission has given its blessing to the merger of Tropic-Tipp Telephone Inc., which operates about 13,200 phones in Miami and Montgomery Counties, with General Telephone Co. of Ohio.

General now operates in 72 of the state's 88 counties, serving more than 256,500 phones. Its home offices are in Marion.

They argued Tuesday as they drove.

Suddenly Mrs. Parris gesture with the sack containing the family savings. "Buying that car," she said, speaking of her husband's choice, "would be like throwing money away."

Out the car window went the sack of money. It disappeared down a storm drain. In it, said Parris, was $2,500 in cash.

Parris slammed the car to a halt. Mrs. Parris jumped out, lunged for the money—and almost got stuck in the drain herself. They could see the sack, lying 15 feet away.

Parris called friends, sheriff's deputies and a road department crew to help him.

As they tried to reach the sack with sticks, a plumber's snake and a fishline, an attendant at a nearby gas station decided it was time to wash down his driveway with a hose. The water poured into a drain, down the drain, and to the sack.

As the would-be rescuers watched helplessly, the sack floated away.

Parris and his wife drove away—in their old car.

Cincy Drug Firm Named In $200,000 Lawsuit

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Wm. S. Merrill Co. of Reading faces another U.S. District Court suit for damages involving alleged side effects of a drug, Mer-29.

An attorney for George E. Toomey, Fort Worth, Tex., filed suit for $200,000 Tuesday, claiming the drug, prescribed by Toomey's doctor to lower his blood cholesterol, gave him cataracts of both eyes, falling hair and chafed skin.

U.S. Sees Soviet-Built Cuba Port As Threat to Panama Canal Zone

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. defense sources said today they believe the port to be built in Cuba with Soviet assistance is a camouflage for a naval base which could threaten the Panama Canal.

They said a port equipped to overhaul, repair, and supply Soviet and Cuban trawlers could also serve as a support base for submarines and torpedo boats.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro unveiled the plans for a port in a television speech Tuesday. He didn't specify the location but a later communique announcing signing of the Soviet-Cuban agreement said the dock and facilities for between 115 and 10 medium

trawlers would be in Havana Bay.

It was reported in Havana that Soviet crews would instruct Cuban crews in the use of Soviet trawlers and that the fleet ultimately would become the property of Cuba.

Many of the Soviet Union's 3,000 trawlers are anything but purely fishing craft. They are known to carry radar and other electronic equipment with which they have monitored U.S. missile test shots from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and have observed U.S. fleet maneuvers.

The small flotilla of Soviet trawlers which arrived in Havana last summer is equipped with electronic detection equipment.

Some military authorities said construction of a Soviet port in Cuba appears part of a worldwide plan to position Soviet naval power where it could pinch off key Allied shipping routes.

Castro announced the pact Tuesday, saying the Russians would furnish credits for building large docking and freeing facilities. He said the Soviet trawler fleet would have use of the facilities for at least 10 years.

A Cuban commentator on a nationwide television broadcast declared the facilities would be "a Cuban port on Cuban property."

He ridiculed reports he said were circulating in Miami that Russians would control the port.

The commentator praised the Soviet Union for extending credits to finance more than half the cost of the 12-million peso project.

He said this contrasted with the trade policy of the United States before Castro came to power. He asserted the United States then was interested only in buying Cuban sugar and tobacco and tried to choke off Cuban rice production in favor of American producers.

A communique reported the fishing port would provide facilities for from 115 to 210 medium trawlers.

The communique said the port would include piers, refrigerators, and ice factory, supply depots, shops, a floating dock, fuel supply stations and a radio station.

Appeals Judge Gets Promotion

Griffith Is Appointed To Ohio's High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle appointed Appellate Judge Lynn B. Griffith of Warren today to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Judge Griffith succeeds Supreme Court Judge James F. Bell of London whose recent resignation is effective Oct. 8.

Judge Griffith will serve on the high court until a successor is elected and qualified in the November election in 1964. Bell's term expires Dec. 1, 1966. His term started Jan. 1, 1961.

The new Supreme Court judge graduated from Oberlin College and received his law degree from Western Reserve University.

After practicing law in Warren, he became city solicitor and later became Trumbull County prosecutor. He was elected Common Pleas Court judge in 1930 and served for 19 years.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche appointed him to the 7th District Court of Appeals in 1950. Appellate judges last week elected Judge Griffith chief justice of Ohio Courts of Appeal for 1963.

Judge and Mrs. Griffith have two sons and a daughter. Lynn B. Jr. is Trumbull County prosecutor and the other son David, is an assistant prosecutor.

The 7th Appellate District embraces 13 counties in northeastern Ohio. This district extends from Lake and Ashtabula counties on Lake Erie to Monroe and Noble counties to the south.

Home Blazes Add Troubles To St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Fire destroyed three homes Tuesday night as scores of officers continued to patrol troubled suburban Kinloch, scene of a demonstration by a mob incensed over the police killing of a Negro youth.

Kinloch Mayor Clarence Lee called the fires the work of arsonists. There were no injuries.

Police early today arrested two of three men seen fleeing from a house fire.

Officers said Joseph Houston, 23 admitted setting four fires. He was booked on suspicion of arson. Police said Daniel Carter, 16, admitted setting one fire. He was turned over to juvenile authorities.

A shotgun blast wounded three white officers and a Negro bystander Tuesday morning as the officers moved to break up a crowd of about 200 Negroes. None of the wounded was hurt critically.

Negroes had gathered near the police station, shouting, "We want Mason." Chief of Police Roosevelt Hoskins said "there was a lot of yelling and scuffling. They began calling names at the policemen."

The violence in the all-Negro community stemmed from the shooting of Darnell Dortch, 20, by police officer Israel Mason, 74, Sunday, Mason, a Negro, resigned Tuesday. He said Dortch refused to accept a careless driving warrant and was shot as they fought for possession of Mason's pistol.

ANOTHER BUILDING COMES DOWN — The Trinity Lutheran Church, E. Mound St., is currently being torn down to make way for an entirely new house of worship. Rev. Carl Zehner, pastor of the church, said today that workmen found several grave markers used as foundation stones in construction of the church shortly after the turn of the century. The church is built on the site of an ancient burial grounds. Completion date of the new edifice is tentatively set for December 1963. The Don King Construction Co., Jackson, has the demolition contract.

Half-a-Loaf Tax Bill Ready For Congress' Consideration

WASHINGTON (AP)—A half-a-loaf tax bill, giving President Kennedy the business-boosting change he recommended but less than the counterbalancing revenue he asked, was ready today for Congress and the White House to consider.

There was every indication the House, the Senate and the President would accept the measure. It was hammered out in four days of work, running into Tuesday night, by a conference committee charge with reconciling the different bills passed by the two chambers. The House will act first, one day next week.

The heart of the measure, a tax credit of more than $1 billion for businesses willing to spend money on modernizing and improving their equipment, was retained. The administration has earnestly pleaded for this investment credit, designed as a quick shot in the arm for the U. S. economy and, in the long pull, as a means of helping U. S. businesses match their modernized — and tax-favored — competitors abroad.

The big casualty, doomed by the Senate, was the plan to withhold income taxes on interest and dividends. The Treasury had hoped to collect by this means as much as $780 million a year in tax revenue now lost because of non-reporting.

The Senate, bombarded with adverse mail, struck out the withholding provision the House had voted. The conference committee went along, but in accepting the Senate substitute, a requirement for more elaborate reporting by the firms paying interest and dividends, the conferees directed the Treasury to report annually on the effectiveness of this device, estimated to be worth $240 million a year in recouped revenue.

Under the investment credit provision, a company could deduct directly from its taxes, subject to some limitations, up to 7 per cent of what is spent for equipment and machinery. Utilities would be held to a per cent deduction. The conference committee made the provision retroactive to Jan. 1, 1962, thus greatly increasing the over-all revenue cost of the bill for its first year.

Congressional sources estimated the first year net loss at $1.1 billion, leveling off thereafter at $545 million a year. Kennedy's original proposal was estimated by the treasury to net an increase of $600 million a year.

The compromise bill would tighten appreciably — though not nearly so much as Kennedy recommended — the tax deduction rules applying to business entertainment, travel and gifts.

The board of trustees adopted Tuesday a resolution of policy "to accept qualified women students, upon recommendation, without regard to race or national origin."

Fallout Shelter Bill OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has passed and sent to President Kennedy a bill appropriating $38 million for fallout shelter research and surveys.

Flash Floods, Winds Rip Village; 246 Bodies Recovered

BARCELONA, Spain (AP)—Flash floods and hurricane winds ripped overnight through a group of villages in a hilly region near Barcelona and a government spokesman said more than 600 persons are dead or missing.

The spokesman said 246 bodies have been recovered and 95 persons are unaccounted for.

Fresh thunderstorms continued across the area, where several hours of heavy rain and high winds smashed many homes and other building.

Officials said the death toll might rise.

Several villages, whose residents normally worked in textile plants near Barcelona, were almost wiped out by the floods, which followed months of dry weather.

The floods struck a few hours after the windup of a Barcelona religious festival, named Nuestra Señora de la Merced—Our Lady of Mercy—which runs for a week each fall. The event had included a song festival with entrants from many nations.

The victims included families who were sleeping. Their houses caved in and trapped them under the debris.

Barcelona was caught in a torrential downpour which quickly flooded the Ripoll and San Quirico rivers.

Rushing water toppled buildings and roared through streets.

Similar floods struck nearby towns.

At first, Barcelona people welcomed the rain because it was the first in nearly four months. But the downpour continued and about midnight people living in downtown districts began climbing to the highest stories of buildings trying to escape the swirling waters.

Many of Barcelona's two million inhabitants were breadless because bakeries were flooded. The drinking water was lacking in many districts.

Polio Chief's Criticism Irks Ohio Medics

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The medical men in charge of Dayton's Sabin Sunday coming up this weekend expressed amazement and chagrin at statements in Washington by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, criticizing mass oral polio vaccine programs.

O'Connor, repeatedly critical of the Public Health Service's recommendations for mass immunization, said Tuesday that Salk killed poliovirus vaccine already has eliminated the polio virus in the United States. Therefore, he said, giving the Sabin polio vaccine is "nothing but a waste of time."

Dr. Charles Kagay, co-chairman of the Dayton-Montgomery County mass Sabin immunization program in which 500,000 doses are ready for Sunday's "customers," strongly disagreed with O'Connor's opinion. He said studies throughout the nation have shown that the polio virus is still present and, indeed, "quite common."

Husband-Slayer Is Found Guilty

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Rebecca Young, 37, has been convicted of second-degree murder for the shotgun slaying of her husband, Grover.

Mrs. Young had admitted shooting her husband, putting his body in the trunk of the family car and leaving the car parked in a lot behind the Lorain police station.

Her attorneys, in closing arguments to the jury, described Young, 39, as a drunkard, a wife beater and a sex deviate.

The prosecution accused Mrs. Young of telling seven conflicting stories and said the woman stood to gain more than $30,000 in insurance as a result of her husband's death.

State Police Halt Negro
From Enrolling at Ole Miss

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi blocked Negro James H. Meredith at the gates of the University of Mississippi today, foiling for the third time in less than a week his plans to enroll at the all-white schools.

Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson, backed by highway patrolmen, barre the 29-year-old Negro's path this time four times refusing to let five cars of U.S. marshals at the main entrance.

"We want to take him in," said John Doar, U.S. Justice Department attorney, the fourth time.

"I heard you," snapped Johnson.

Then a brief scuffle flared when marshals tried to walk through the line of patrolmen. Lt. Gov. Johnson told Chief Marshal John McShane:

Wilmington
Set To Host
Plow Contest

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—This Clinton County city, in the heart of lush Southwest Ohio farming country, began bustling at the seams today with farmers, farm experts, farm implement dealers and even guys who wouldn't know the first principle of operating a plow.

The occasion is the opening Thursday of the National Plowing Contest and the fourth annual Farm-Orama exhibit.

Sponsors are predicting as many as 150,000 spectators if the weather is good.

The National Plowing Contest will run through Friday.

The state contest at which Ohio's entrants will be determined for the 1963 National will be held Saturday. Winners in the national event will go to the international contest.

The National Plowing Contest will have state champions in level land and contour plowing from Indiana, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Ohio, Michigan and South Dakota plus the 1961 champions and runners-up.

The final National shindig will come at 2 p.m. Friday when the winners are announced formally and Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman speaks.

Cuyahoga Poll
Petitions Seen
As Fraudulent

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has asked the Cuyahoga County election board to investigate petitions submitted by Michael G. Gallagher to qualify for the Oct. 2 Democratic primary.

Gallagher sought the nomination of mayor of Cleveland but his petitions were rejected as insufficient.

Brown sent a letter to Ray C. Miller, clerk of the election board, in which he said some of the signatures on the petitions were apparently signed by the same person.

"This is an apparent act of fraud and a violation of Ohio's election code," Brown said. "I am calling this to your attention for an immediate investigation and ask that you turn this matter over to the prosecuting attorney."

The Cuyahoga County prosecutor is John Corrigan, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for mayor in the pre-election primary. Two other Democrats also are seeking the candidacy.

New Farm Bill

attempt will be made at the next session to get controls for feed program for cotton.

The new wheat program will not go into effect until 1964, and then only if approved by two-thirds of growers voting in a referendum.

The bill provides two types of payments to growers who reduce wheat acreages for the 1963 crop by at least 20 per cent. One is an 18-cent-a-bushel payment on the grower's normal production on his remaining acres, and the other payments on the idled land equivalent to half the value of the normal production on those acres.

The 1962 wheat crop was grown under a program which required growers to reduce acreages at least 10 per cent from their allotments in return for payments.

The permanent wheat program will permit a lower acreage allotment than the 55-million acre minimum in the present law. Because of agriculture's increasing efficiency, the latter acreage was not small enough to prevent the buildup of a record wheat surplus.

The new program also will assign bushel quotas to individual farms. These quotas are designed to cover domestic food requirements and exports. Each grower would get a certificate entitling him to $2 a bushel on this part of his production.

Moon Landing
Secrecy Probed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 1959 Army study on putting men on the moon by 1965 has had 10 security reviews by three agencies, been scissored in half by censors and is still under security wraps.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., chairman of a House Government Information subcommittee, wants to know why.

It was learned Monday that Moss has asked Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to explain why the document, a report on "Project Horizon," still is closed to the public.

Moss said that on Aug. 1, 1961, the House Science and Astronautics Committee asked McNamara for a classified version of the Project Horizon study after the Army itself recommended it be declassified.

Since then, Moss wrote McNamara, his subcommittee staff has been informed the report has gone through a mill of security reviews by the Army, the Office of Defense Research and Engineering and the State Department.

"The subcommittee was informed that on Sep. 12, 1962, the State Department finally recommended against release of a revised version of the report," Moss said.

The Associated Press obtained access to the study last week and reported that the Army contended more than three years ago that anything short of being first on the moon "would be catastrophic."

The story said Project Horizon is a virtual blueprint for a 1965 moon landing and for establishing a permanent outpost on the moon by 1966, but apparently has gathered dust in government files since completed in June 1959.

The AP was told by a source that the Army study now bears a "For Official Use Only" label which he said was used "just to keep you guys from printing it."

Last Air Guardsmen
Being Separated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The last of the Ohio Air National Guardsmen called to active duty last Oct. 1 — except for those choosing to remain in the Air Force indefinitely—are being processed for separation this week.

Approximately 1,600 Ohio Air Guardsmen were federalized in last fall's Berlin buildup, and more than 800 served in France and West Germany. Most returned to civilian life last month.

Those who are being processed this week volunteered to stay in uniform for the full year.

From Enrolling at Ole Miss

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi blocked Negro James H. Meredith at the gates of the University of Mississippi today, foiling for the third time in less than a week his plans to enroll at the all-white schools.

Gov. Paul Johnson, backed by highway patrolmen, barred the 29-year-old Negro's path this time. Meredith was arrested in five cars of U.S. marshals at the main entrance.

"We want to take him in," said John Doar, U.S. Justice Department attorney, the fourth time.

"I heard you," snapped Johnson.

Then a brief scuffle flared when marshals tried to walk through the line of patrolmen. Lt. Gov. Johnson told Chief Marshal John McShane:

Wilmington
Set To Host
Plow Contest

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—This Clinton County city, in the heart of lush Southwest Ohio farming country, began bustling at the seams today with farmers, farm experts, farm implement dealers and even guys who wouldn't know the first principle of operating a plow.

The occasion is the opening Thursday of the National Plowing Contest and the fourth annual Farm-Orama exhibit.

Sponsors are predicting as many as 150,000 spectators if the weather is good.

The National Plowing Contest will run through Friday.

The state contest at which Ohio's entrants will be determined for the 1963 National will be held Saturday. Winners in the national event will go to the international contest.

The National Plowing Contest will have state champions in level land and contour plowing from Indiana, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Ohio, Michigan and South Dakota plus the 1961 champions and runners-up.

The final National shindig will come at 2 p. m. Friday when the winners are announced formally and Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman speaks.

South Court PTA
Sets First Meet

Teachers at the South Court St. School will be introduced tomorrow at the first meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association there.

The meeting, which will be attended by Fritz Jacobs, superintendent of city schools, is scheduled to start at 7:30 p. m.

Planned participation of the group in the PTA booth at the Pumpkin Show will be discussed.

The cod, once unknown in Greenland, has become a food staple of the Eskimos.

Cuyahoga Poll
Petitions Seen
As Fraudulent

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has asked the Cuyahoga County election board to investigate petitions submitted by Michael G. Gallagher to qualify for the Oct. 2 Democratic primary.

Gallagher sought the nomination of mayor of Cleveland but his petitions were rejected as insufficient.

Brown sent a letter to Ray C. Miller, clerk of the election board, in which he said some petitions contain a number of signatures which apparently were signed by the same person.

"This is an apparent act of fraud and a violation of Ohio's election code," Brown said. "I am calling this to your attention for an immediate investigation and ask that you turn this matter over to the prosecuting attorney."

The Cuyahoga County prosecutor is John Corrigan, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for mayor in the pre-election primary. Two other Democrats also are seeking the candidacy.

Archeologist
To Speak to Historical Unit

Richard D. Faust, a noted archeologist, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Pickaway County Historical Society 8 p. m. Thursday in the trustee room at Memorial Hall.

Faust, who holds a degree in anthropology from the University of Indiana, is an archeologist stationed at Mound City National Park. He is a resident of Frankfort and received his appointment at Mound City in 1961.

His subject for Thursday's meeting will be "Mound Builders." He is appearing through the courtesy of the National Park Service.

attempt will be made at the next session to get controls for feed program for cotton.

The new wheat program will not go into effect until 1964, and then only if approved by two-thirds of growers voting in a referendum.

The bill provides two types of payments to growers who reduce wheat acreages for the 1963 crop by at least 20 per cent. One is an 18-cent-a-bushel payment on the grower's normal production on his remaining acres, and the other payments on the idled land equivalent to half the value of the normal production on those acres.

The 1962 wheat crop was grown under a program which required growers to reduce acreages at least 10 per cent from their allotments in return for payments.

The permanent wheat program will permit a lower acreage allotment than the 55-million-acre minimum in the present law. Because of agriculture's increasing efficiency, the latter acreage was not small enough to prevent the buildup of a record wheat surplus.

The new program also will assign bushel quotas to individual farms. These quotas are designed to cover domestic food requirements and exports. Each grower would get a certificate entitling him to $2 a bushel on this part of his production.

Moon Landing
Secrecy Probed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 1959 Army study on putting men on the moon by 1965 has had 10 security reviews by three agencies, been scissored in half by censors and is still under security wraps.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., chairman of a House Government Information subcommittee, wants to know why.

It was learned Monday that Moss has asked Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to explain why the document, a report on "Project Horizon," still is closed to the public.

Moss said that on Aug. 1, 1961, the House Science and Astronautics Committee asked McNamara for a classified version of the Project Horizon study after the Army itself recommended it be declassified.

Since then, Moss wrote McNamara, his subcommittee staff has been informed the report has gone through a mill of security reviews by the Army, the Office of Defense Research and Engineering and the State Department.

"The subcommittee was informed that on Sept. 12, 1962, the State Department finally recommended against release of a revised version of the report," Moss said.

The Associated Press obtained access to the study last week and reported that the Army contended more than three years ago that anything short of being first on the moon "would be catastrophic."

The story said Project Horizon is a virtual blueprint for a 1965 moon landing and for establishing a permanent outpost on the moon by 1966, but apparently has gathered dust in government files since completed in June 1959.

The AP was told by a source that the Army study now bears a "For Official Use Only" label which he said was used "just to keep you guys from printing it."

Last Air Guardsmen
Being Separated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The last of the Ohio Air National Guardsmen called to active duty last Oct. 1 — except for those choosing to remain in the Air Force indefinitely—are being processed for separation this week.

Approximately 1,600 Ohio Air Guardsmen were federalized in last fall's Berlin buildup, and more than 800 served in France and West Germany. Most returned to civilian life last month.

Those who are being processed this week volunteered to stay in uniform for the full year.

Going to School on Time

An increasing flood of students will be borrowing more money than ever to go to college in the years to come, the Wall Street Journal reports. And the money is going to be available.

Americans will borrow close to $600 million for college expenses in the current academic year, according to one authoritative estimate. Five years ago student loans totaled about $115 million. The money is available from the colleges themselves, and from federal participation in the student loan program, as well as from private non-profit funds and commercial lenders. Such loans are based on student potential future earning power.

College costs have gone up sharply. Estimates are that freshmen entering private colleges this month face four-year costs averaging more than $11,000. The outlay compares with $6,300 in 1950 and $3,700 in 1940.

It is better to have students borrow money to go to school than not to go at all, but university administrators foresee some problems the practice may create.

Indiana University, which got into the student loan business early, has found that 10 per cent of the borrowers are delinquent in their payments, and of 280 borrowers, nine have disappeared completely leaving Indiana U. and Uncle Sam holding the bag.

Also to be determined is the effect of loans on the student's later lives. If the student marries the necessity of repaying this loan will be added to other financial obligations, such as buying a home, car, and raising children.

And so, while the loan program provides education for many students who otherwise might not get it, it appears not to be the unmixed blessing many educators once thought it was.

Seattle's Library

One of the most startling aspects of the Seattle World's Fair is the news that its library is proving one of the most popular attractions. This is amazing, and heartening, too, because many had begun to believe that television, paperbacks and other readily available and reasonably priced attractions had lured people away from libraries.

Perhaps, however, the Seattle library differs from most. According to reports, it has Univac machines which tell the visitors individually what they should be reading, give them wise words from famous men and tell them about the countries of the world.

Visitors are also fascinated by seeing their names come out of a large machine with a personal answer to personal questions.

Furthermore, there are booths in the library that teach French, science, fine arts, speed reading and basic education through small films, oral aids and machines.

Maybe all libraries — at least those in bigger cities — will find it necessary to become as up-to-date as the one at the Seattle fair if they hope to gain new positions of eminence. A few sideshows might do the trick.

Remarks To Irk a Newsmen

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a newspaperman gets tired of hearing:

"Oh, you can't print that!"

"Off the record, I don't mind telling you that—"

"He must be a newspaperman. Nobody else would wear a hat like that."

"Why is it newspapers always seem to be full of nothing but bad news? Is the world really that awful?"

"You fellows must get a lot of information you can't publish. Tell me the truth now. What is Khrushchev really up to?"

"I suppose you expect to get into heaven on a press pass, too?"

"Could you write a story about me? I just bit a dog."

"I just phoned to give you an item about my daughter's wedding. You'll be sure and put it on the front page, won't you? That'll really impress our neighbors."

"Hi, Scoop! What's new?"

"And furthermore, I'm just not any ordinary indignant reader. My husband is a cousin of the mayor."

"I thought all newspapermen went around with a big pencil stuck behind their ear."

"My son just flunked out of college again, and now he says he's interested in taking up journalism. How long will it take him to become a foreign correspondent?"

"Hey Pete, Mr. Czyniowski is on the phone. He says he spelled his name wrong again. He wants to know if he changed it to Smith would it help you to get it right?"

"Naturally, what I'm telling you is in strict confidence."

"Oh, no, I don't want to be quoted."

"Here's a cigar, son. Let's just forget the whole thing, shall we?"

"You printed the text of the President's last speech. Why can't you run the full text of my sermon?"

"Gee, being a reporter sounds awfully exciting. You get to meet such interesting people."

"You don't mean they pay you to write things like that? Why, I only went two years to high school, but I'll bet you I could—"

"I used to be in the newspaper game myself—and then I got smart."

"Shall I let him in, Boss? He claims he's a reporter."

"Pete, there's a fellow out at the reception desk who says he's invented a perpetual motion machine that really works. Better go out and listen to him. He may be a subscriber."

"Hello, hello. This is Mr. Czyniowski. I want to give you an item about my wife being elected president of our garden club. Yes, it's 'c' like in centpede, 'y' like in yesterday, 'z' like in—"

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Wanted: Some really good news. What's what many businessmen are hoping for as the fall season gets under way.

Most Americans aren't conditioned to plateau living. Whether businessmen, stockholders, workers, consumers, they tend to grow restive when times are good but aren't getting noticeably better.

Through the summer good and bad business news about canceled each other out. In general, the balance sheet crept to the higher side. But impatient Americans are hoping it'll start a stronger climb with a boost from the usual fall revival of trade and industry. A few still hold to the view that the economy will turn down instead.

The figures show business lolling on its plateau—a high one, and in some respects a record high one.

A really good piece of news—domestic or foreign, economic or political—might set off the enthusiasm that the economy lacks now.

A good reception of the new car models might help. Detroit talks hopefully of a big year. At least, it thinks dollar volume will be good because it expects less emphasis on the compacts and more on the higher-priced models.

Some business and government economists base their hopes for greater vigor in the economy on tax cuts. They say these would stimulate consumer buying and business spending for capital goods, starting a spiral that would mean more activity all around.

But the tax cuts aren't scheduled to come until 1963. And in what form, or in what amounts, remains in the realm of conjecture. What will the administration ask? What will the new Congress vote?

Still, some really good news, from whatever direction it may appear, and whether foreseen or unexpected, might do a lot just now to move the economy up from the plateau on which it seems to have settled.

Portland, Maine (AP)—Portland Thomas Doherty knows a boy who just can't stay out of trouble. The boy and some friends were at the police station for questioning when he stole Doherty's unguarded handcuffs. Later, he snapped them onto his ankle and damaged them in an unsuccessful attempt at getting them off.

The boy finally went back to the police station for help. In a Juvenile Court session, he and his parents were ordered to make restitution of $17 and the boy was placed on probation.

AN ITINERANT preacher in the Blue Ridge Mountains shook an old reprobate and thundered, "Are you ready for the Judgment Day?" "Mebbe yes, mebbe no," said the old rep cagily. "When's it coming?" "It might come this very day," warned the preacher. "Then again, it might come tomorrow."

By this time the old reprobate was registering genuine concern. "Don't tell my old woman," he begged. "She'd want to go both ways."

An indignant customer called an electrical supply shop to demand, "What happened to that man you promised to send round to repair my broken doorbell?"

"He went to your house like I promised," answered the electrician, "and he stood there ringing that bell for a full fifteen minutes, but nobody answered, so he came back to the shop. You shouldn't be so inconsiderate in the future!"

A new girl in the check room of a popular nightclub whispered to a veteran employee, "What does it mean when a college student slips you a dollar tip?" "It means," answered the knowing veteran, "that you have given him the wrong coat."

Art Carney took his car into a Westchester garage for a tune-up and was handed a bill for $120. "Hey," protested Carney, "who did this tune-up? Leonard Bernstein?"

Dear Doctor: I have myasthenia gravis. One eyelid droops and I can't walk up or down stairs.

Outside, people ridicule me. Please tell them about myasthenia gravis and how it's not catching.

Miss K. B. (Calif.)

Even though the myasthenia gravis victim starts the day full of zip, his muscles poop out in a few hours.

Tiny nerve endings manufacture a special chemical to whip up muscle action. But around each fiber is a chemical gun fight where the good guys usually win.

In myasthenia gravis, one chemical good guy is missing. The bad guys take over and destroy that vital muscle-stimulating chemical.

Gradually, muscles weaken and stop working. Eyelids droop. You see double. Your face turns into a wax-like mask with a snarling mouth.

Your voice grows hoarse. Everything you eat or drink bubbles up into your nose. You have to struggle for air.

Pills or injections can replace the missing good guy and strengthen.

Adenauer Schedules Visit to Kennedy

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is expected to meet with President Kennedy in Washington later this year, authoritative sources said Tuesday. The nation, Nasser said he wanted Final arrangements probably will be made when Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder goes to Washington Oct. 1 for talks with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, the sources said.

Authoritative sources said Adenauer wants to impress upon Kennedy that the West German government will continue to oppose any U.S. plan for establishing demilitarized zones in central Europe in return for Soviet guarantees for the freedom of West Berlin. Adenauer was portrayed as believing that any Soviet guarantees would be worthless.

I am constantly receiving correspondence from readers who say it is absurd that the alternatives are war with Soviet Russia or a negotiated peace.

Perhaps they are correct. Certainly, I should prefer to be wrong. But I have never yet come across another alternative except the obiter dicta that when the United States is strong, Soviet Russia backs down. I do not know of one such instance. It has happened that Soviet Russia has taken one step backward to wait to take two steps forward.

I do know that Soviet Russia has, on occasion, set up two fronts such as the one that caused the Berlin Airlift and the conquest of Nationalist China. While we were engaged in one of these, with strength, the Russians took possession of the other.

Similarly, at the present time, Soviet Russia operates on three active fronts: 1. Berlin; 2. Cuba; 3. Economic penetration. Which shall be tackled or shall we tackle all three simultaneously? Can we do it without war?

I received a charming letter from Mrs. Beatrice Beck Fahnestock of Washington in which she says:

"You have written twice that our only choice is War or a negotiated peace. This I do not believe. Whenever in the past we have been firm the U.S.S.R. has backed down. I do not believe they want war and I believe we could have torn down the Berlin wall and taken over Castro Cuba and they would have done nothing. If, at any time, like Hitler, they are ready and want war, no amount of appeasement or deals will stop them."

I should like to believe everything that Mrs. Fahnestock believes, but while an assumption may be based on emotion, a plan of national defense must be based on knowledge. I am sure that neither I nor Mrs. Fahnestock nor the Secretary of State nor the President knows what Khrushchev's attitude is. It is impossible to gauge his attitude because he is not accountable to an in-session Congress or to public opinion. He can take off a shoe and bang a desk and survive; he can insult the President of the United States and survive; he can punish those who promoted him and survive.

It is not the man as much as their system. It is not that he has nine lives; it is that the dictatorial system gives him a political advantage which he holds until he dies a natural or unnatural death. He has time not only to plan but to execute his plan or even to reverse himself. We would regard such a reversal as weakness; the Russians regard it as clever.

The gamble must be based on some knowledge. We know a good deal about his manufacturing ability and potential; I assume that we have an adequate knowledge of his arms and equipment. We can measure the general lines of his diplomacy and we are aware of his economic penetration.

But we do not and cannot know of the schemes that are nurtured in the mind of one person of unlimited power.

Mrs. Fahnestock says that we could have torn down the Berlin Wall of Shame. That is an opinion. There is no evidence that such an act would not have produced war. In fact, it could be that the Wall of Shame was erected to provoke war. I have seen the Russians do stunts like that during revolutionary fighting. I refer Mrs. Fahnestock to the Father Gapon incident as an example. Tearing down the Wall might be like the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

As for Castro, the time to have stopped Castro was in 1958 when five United States Ambassadors had provided our government with information concerning the be-whiskered beast. Today it must be done by war or by counter-revolution which is war.

It is not a question of appeasement any longer. That time has passed too. I believe that it will be war. But history is replete with incidents when war seemed inevitable and a long peace prevailed after negotiation. An example is the prospect of war between Alexander I of Russia and post-Napoleonic France. The Congress of Vienna settled that and there was no world war from 1815 to 1914.

The Russians, like ourselves, are being pushed forward into war, by the currents of history — these particular currents starting perhaps with the Chinese and Turkish Revolutions of 1912-1913.

Going to School on Time

An increasing flood of students will be borrowing more money than ever to go to college in the years to come, the Wall Street Journal reports. And the money is going to be available.

Americans will borrow close to $600 million for college expenses in the current academic year, according to one authoritative estimate. Five years ago student loans totaled about $115 million. The money is available from the colleges themselves, and from federal participation in the student loan program, as well as from private non-profit funds and commercial lenders. Such loans are based on student potential future earning power.

College costs have gone up sharply. Estimates are that freshmen entering private colleges this month face four-year costs averaging more than $11,000. The outlay compares with $6,300 in 1950 and $3,700 in 1940.

Seattle's Library

One of the most startling aspects of the Seattle World's Fair is the news that its library is proving one of the most popular attractions. This is amazing, and heartening, too, because many had begun to believe that television, paperbacks and other readily available and reasonably priced attractions had lured people away from libraries.

Perhaps, however, the Seattle library differs from most. According to reports, it has Univac machines which tell the visitors individually what they should be reading, give them wise words from famous men and tell them about the countries of the world.

It is better to have students borrow money to go to school than not to go at all, but university administrators foresee some problems the practice may create.

Indiana University, which got into the student loan business early, has found that 10 per cent of the borrowers are delinquent in their payments, and of 280 borrowers, nine have disappeared completely leaving Indiana U. and Uncle Sam holding the bag.

Also to be determined is the effect of loans on the student's later lives. If the student marries the necessity of repaying this loan will be added to other financial obligations, such as buying a home, car, and raising children.

And so, while the loan program provides education for many students who otherwise might not get it, it appears not to be the unmixed blessing many educators once thought it was.

Furthermore, there are booths in the library that teach French, science, fine arts, speed reading and basic education through small films, oral aids and machines.

Maybe all libraries — at least those in bigger cities — will find it necessary to become as up-to-date as the one at the Seattle fair if they hope to gain new positions of eminence. A few sidishows might do the trick.

Remarks To Irk a Newsmen

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a newspaperman gets tired of hearing:

"Oh, you can't print that!"

"Off the record, I don't mind telling you that—"

"He must be a newspaperman. Nobody else would wear a hat like that."

"Why is it newspapers always seem to be full of nothing but bad news? Is the world really that awful?"

"You fellows must get a lot of information you can't publish. Tell me the truth now. What is Khrushchev really up to?"

"I suppose you expect to get into heaven on a press pass, too?"

"Could you write a story about me? I just bit a dog."

"I just phoned to give you an item about my daughter's wedding. You'll be sure and put it on the front page, won't you? That'll really impress our neighbors."

"Hi, Scoop! What's new?"

"And furthermore, I'm just not any ordinary indignant reader. My husband is a cousin of the mayor."

"I thought all newspapermen went around with a big pencil stuck behind their ear."

"My son just flunked out of college again, and now he says he's interested in taking up journalism. How long will it take him to become a foreign correspondent?"

"Hey Pete, Mr. Czynskiweics is on the phone. He says he spelled his name wrong again. He wants to know if he changed it to Smith would it help you to get it right?"

"Naturally, what I'm telling you is in strict confidence."

"Oh, no, I don't want to be quoted."

"Here's a cigar, son. Let's just forget the whole thing, shall we?"

"You printed the text of the President's last speech. Why can't you run the full text of my sermon?"

"Gee, being a reporter sounds awfully exciting. You get to meet such interesting people."

"You don't mean they pay you to write things like that? Why, I only went two years to high school, but I'll bet you I could—"

"I used to be in the newspaper game myself—and then I got smart."

"Shall I let him in, Boss? He claims he's a reporter."

"Pete, there's a fellow out at the reception desk who says he's invented a perpetual motion machine that really works. Better go out and listen to him. He may be a subscriber."

"Hello, hello. This is Mr. Czynskiweics. I want to give you an item about my wife being elected president of our garden club. Yes, it's 'c' like in centipede, 'y' like in yesterday, 'z' like in—"

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Wanted: Some really good news. What's what many businessmen are hoping for as the fall season gets under way.

Most Americans aren't conditioned to plateau living. Whether businessmen, stockholders, workers, consumers, they tend to grow restive when times are good but aren't getting noticeably better.

Through the summer good and bad business news about canceled each other out. In general, the balance sheet crept to the higher side. But impatient Americans are hoping it'll start a stronger climb with a boost from the usual fall revival of trade and industry. A few still hold to the view that the economy will turn down instead.

The figures show business lolling on its plateau—a high one, and in some respects a record high one.

A really good piece of news—domestic or foreign, economic or political—might set off the enthusiasm that the economy lacks now.

A good reception of the new car models might help. Detroit talks hopefully of a big year. At least, it thinks dollar volume will be good because it expects less emphasis on the compacts and more on the higher-priced models.

Some business and government economists base their hopes for greater vigor in the economy on tax cuts. They say these would stimulate consumer buying and business spending for capital goods, starting a spiral that would mean more activity all around.

But the tax cuts aren't scheduled to come until 1963. And in what form, or in what amounts, remains in the realm of conjecture. What will the administration ask? What will the new Congress vote?

Still, some really good news, from whatever direction it may appear, and whether foreseen or unexpected, might do a lot just now to move the economy up from the plateau on which it seems to have settled.

More Meaningful Reports From Newspapers Are Urged

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — American newspapers, long the dominant force in day-to-day enlightenment of the reading public, were issued a stern challenge today by one of their leading spokesmen to scale even greater heights of meaningful reporting.

The call came from Ed Stone of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer and retiring president of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association, which opened its annual five-day convention here.

"I feel strongly," Stone said, "that the great challenge to our existence as a vital and essential part of American life lies still before us; that only by daring and imagination and a constant questioning of time-honored concepts and practices, can we ever hope to approach the shining goal of maximum service to our readers, our community and our nation."

Stone spoke to some 300 delegates at the APME session. He also used his president's report to voice an answer to critics of today's newspapers.

"Ill-informed and even malicious criticisms of America's newspapers by an influential minority persist in setting up a straw man of sensationalism and irresponsibility with little or no relationship to 1962 reality," he said.

"Our jaundiced detractors of this persuasion are fond of citing 5 or 10 'best newspapers' as living up to their criteria and dismissing the rest of America's vast press as of no account, thus dumping into their critical ashcan the hundred of good newspapers across the land which are serving their respective communities conscientiously and well," he added.

The Seattle executive urged his fellow editors to greater effort in backgrounding news to make it more vital to the reader.

"How much do we really know of the immense circle of peoples," he asked, "now emerging into the sunlight of the 20th century in Africa and Asia, whose fate is inextricably bound up with ours and with that of our children's children in the onward march of history?"

"We are living in exciting times—in a broad sweep of history that is changing the world daily before our very eyes," Stone said. "and it is up to us to communicate the excitement of these times to our readers."

Keynoting the APME sessions was J. Q. Mahaffey, veteran editor of the Texarkana Gazette.

"I have always felt that the AP was not just a news service," Mahaffey said, "not even a mutually owned news service, but a great fraternity of the best newspapermen in the world, all of whom care a hell of a lot about one another."

Today's sessions included presentation of member citations for outstanding performances in news coverage. Making the awards was Ted Durein, of the Monterey, Calif., Peninsula Herald, and chairman of the member citations committee.

The APME board of directors voted to hold the 1966 convention in San Diego. Meeting dates are set four years in advance. Miami will be the hot city in 1963. Phoenix will entertain the convention in 1964, and Pittsburgh will be the host in 1965.

Just What Is Good Newspaper?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Just what is a good newspaper? How can you judge its performance?

These are old questions and it is doubtful if anyone will ever find easy answers. But a group of veteran editors has drafted a code to help both the public and the press evaluate a newspaper.

The group, appointed by the Associated Press Managing Editors Association, has set up these criteria:

A good newspaper shall:

- Exert maximum effort to print the truth in all news situations.
- Strive for completeness and objectivity.
- Guard against carelessness, bias, or distortion by either emphasis or omission.
- Correct promptly errors of fact.
- Select, edit and display news on the basis of its significance, interest and its genuine usefulness to the public.
- Edit news affecting public morals with candor and good taste and avoid an imbalance of a sensation preponderantly negative or merely trivial news.
- Accent when possible a reasonable amount of news which illustrates the values of compassion, self-sacrifice, heroism, good citizenship and patriotism.
- Clearly define sources of news, tell the reader when competent sources cannot be identified and background with the facts public statements which the newspaper knows to be accurate.
- Uphold the constitutional rights of free speech, respect rights of privacy and serve the public by helping protect all rights and privileges guaranteed by law.

Instruct its staff members to conduct themselves with dignity and decorum.

Honesty and fairly select and edit its news content to provide impartial treatment of disputed issues and thorough and dispassionate handling of controversial subjects.

Practice humility and tolerance in all relations with news sources and the public and respect honest conflicting opinions or disagreement.

Label as Editorial its own views or expressions of opinion and provide on the Editorial Page a forum for the exchange of pertinent comment and criticism, especially if it is in conflict with the newspaper's editorial point of view.

Stimulate and vigorously support public officials, private groups and individuals to increase the good works and eliminate the bad in the community.

Serve as a constructive critic of government at all levels, providing leadership for necessary reforms of innovations, and exposing any wrong-doing in office or mis-forms or innovations, and exposing any wrong-doing in office or misuse of public power.

Oppose selfish and unwholesome interests regardless of their size or influence.

More Meaningful Reports From Newspapers Are Urged

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — American newspapers, long the dominant force in day-to-day enlightenment of the reading public, were issued a stern challenge today by one of their leading spokesmen to scale even greater heights of meaningful reporting.

The call came from Ed Stone of the Seattle Post Intelligencer and retiring president of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association, which opened its annual five-day convention here.

"I feel strongly," Stone said, "that the great challenge to our existence as a vital and essential part of American life lies still before us; that only by daring and imagination and a constant questioning of time-honored concepts and practices, can we ever hope to approach the shining goal of maximum service to our readers, our community and our nation."

Stone spoke to some 300 delegates at the APME session. He also used his president's report to voice an answer to critics of today's newspapers.

"Ill-informed and even malicious criticisms of America's newspapers by an influential minority persist in setting up a straw man of sensationalism and irresponsibility with little or no relationship to 1962 reality," he said.

"Our jaundiced detractors of this persuasion are fond of citing 5 or 10 'best newspapers' as living up to their criteria and dismissing the rest of America's vast press as of no account, thus dumping into their critical ashcan the hundred of good newspapers across the land which are serving their respective communities conscientiously and well," he added.

The Seattle executive urged his fellow editors to greater effort in backgrounding news to make it more vital to the reader.

"How much do we really know of the immense circle of peoples," he asked, "now emerging into the sunlight of the 20th century in Africa and Asia, whose fate is inextricably bound up with ours and with that of our children's children in the onward march of history?"

"We are living in exciting times—in a broad sweep of history that is changing the world daily before our very eyes," Stone said, "and it is up to us to communicate the excitement of these times to our readers."

Keynoting the APME sessions was J. Q. Mahaffey, veteran editor of the Texarkana Gazette. "I have always felt that the AP was not just a news service," Mahaffey said, "not even a mutually owned news service, but a great fraternity of the best newspapermen in the world, all of whom care a hell of a lot about one another."

Today's sessions included presentation of member citations for outstanding performances in news coverage. Making the awards was Ted Durein, of the Monterey, Calif., Peninsula Herald, and chairman of the member citations committee.

The APME board of directors voted to hold the 1966 convention in San Diego. Meeting dates are set four years in advance. Miami will be the hot city in 1963. Phoenix will entertain the convention in 1964, and Pittsburgh will be the host in 1965.

Just What Is Good Newspaper?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Just what is a good newspaper? How can you judge its performance?

These are old questions and it is doubtful if anyone will ever find easy answers. But a group of veteran editors has drafted a code to help both the public and the press evaluate a newspaper.

The group, appointed by the Associated Press Managing Editors Association, has set up these criteria:

A good newspaper shall:
Exert maximum effort to print the truth in all news situations.

Strive for completeness and objectivity.

Guard against carelessness, bias, or distortion by either emphasis or omission.

Correct promptly errors of fact.

Select, edit and display news on the basis of its significance, interest and its genuine usefulness to the public.

Edit news affecting public morals with candor and good taste and avoid an imbalance of a sensation preponderantly negative or merely trivial news.

Accent when possible a reasonable amount of news which illustrates the values of compassion, self-sacrifice, heroism, good citizenship and patriotism.

Clearly define sources of news, tell the reader when competent sources cannot be identified and background with the facts public statements which the newspaper knows to be accurate.

Uphold the constitutional rights of free speech, respect rights of privacy and serve the public by helping protect all rights and privileges guaranteed by law.

Instruct its staff members to conduct themselves with dignity and decorum.

Honesty and fairly select and edit its news content to provide impartial treatment of disputed issues and thorough and dispassionate handling of controversial subjects.

Practice humility and tolerance in all relations with news sources and the public and respect honest conflicting opinions or disagreement.

Label as Editorial its own views or expressions of opinion and provide on the Editorial Page a forum for the exchange of pertinent comment and criticism, especially if it is in conflict with the newspaper's editorial point of view.

Stimulate and vigorously support public officials, private groups and individuals to increase the good works and eliminate the bad in the community.

Serve as a constructive critic of government at all levels, providing leadership for necessary reforms of innovations, and exposing any wrong-doing in office or mis- forms or innovations, and exposing any wrong-doing in office or misuse of public power.

Oppose selfish and unwholesome interests regardless of their size or influence.

Musselman, Dye Vows Read

MRS. JERRY COULSON DYE

Miss Connie Frances Musselman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Marvin Musselman, Circleville, became the bride of Mr. Jerry Coulson Dye, son of Mrs. Ralph D. Dye, McConnellsville, O. and the late Mr. Dye. The wedding was conducted Sept. 9 at The First Methodist Church, Circleville.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore an Edwardian style gown of silk organza fashioned with a scooped neckline and bracelet length sleeves. Alencon lace frosted with seed pearls and crystals outlined the neckline and larger lace motifs accented the front hemline of the gown.

The carriage back flowed into a full chapel train. Her crown of seed pearls, crystals and silk organza rosettes held a bouffant veil of imported English silk illusion and she carried a cascade of white pompons on a Bible topped with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was sterling silver teardrop earrings centered with a cultured pearl, a gift of the bridegroom.

There was a wealth of tradition woven into the wedding plans. The bride wore a half-slip of embroidered white batiste eyelet made from the wedding gown of her grandmother, the late Mrs. Albert Musselman and she wore the traditional blue garter given by her great, great aunt, Mrs. B. A. Kocher, Circleville.

The white Bible was a gift from her great, great aunt, Mrs. Alex Mace, Williamsport. Tucked inside the Bible was a white lace handkerchief that was carried by the bridegroom's mother at her wedding and belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Permelia Bricker Coulson. An added touch of tradition was a white hand point lace handkerchief the bride carried in her hand, which was one hundred-fifty years old. It was carried by the bridegroom's great, great grandmother, the late Mrs. Matilda Bricker. The bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Peters, Ashville, were married in the parsonage of The First Methodist Church, Circleville in 1910.

Miss Carole Weiler, Circleville, was maid of honor for her cousin. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Siwinski, Ashville, and Miss Diane Richard, Ashville, also a cousin of the bride. They wore identical sheath gowns of apricot silk organza fashioned with scooped necklines and bracelet length sleeves. Their tunic puffed skirts fastened in front with a bow. Each wore matching apricot pillbox hats with circle veils and carried bouquets of large bronze mums.

Miss Cher'ee George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vernon George, Circleville, was the flower girl. She wore a dress of beige silk organza over toast taffeta with a matching cummerbund and her headband was toast taffeta with a toast veil. She wore a wrist corsage of bronze-pompons and carried a basket of bronze mum petals.

Mr. Bruce Dye, McConnellsville, served his brother as best man, and ushers were Mr. Ralph D. Dye and Mr. Douglas Dye, McConnellsville, brothers of the groom, Mr. Kenneth Kolter, Columbus, and Mr. Ned Musselman, brother of the bride, who also sang the "Wedding Prayer" for his sister's wedding.

A reception was held in the church social rooms following the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Dye is a graduate of Columbus Business University and is a registered medical secretary, presently employed by the College of Medicine, at Ohio State University Hospital.

Mr. Dye attended Ohio State University and is presently employed by Richard Lewis Travel Service, Columbus.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will reside at 4050 North High Street, Columbus, O. Out of town guests at the wedding were from Findley, Lima, McConnellsville, Zanesville, Cincinnati, Chillicothe, Lancaster, Sedalia, Malta Columbus and West Springfield Pa.

Miss Southward Is Engaged to Mr. Imboden

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Southward, 486 E. Main St., Circleville, announce the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Beverly Elaine, to Mr. Robert Lee Imboden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Imboden, Route 4, Logan.

Miss Southward is a graduate of Circleville High school and Riverside-White Cross Hospital School of Nursing. She is employed in the office of Dr. H. H. Swope, Circleville.

Mr. Imboden is a teacher in Tiffin School, Chillicothe Public School System. He graduated from Logan High School and Ohio University.

The open church wedding will be an event of November 22 at 7:30 p. m. in First Methodist Church, Circleville.

Junior GC Unit Elects New Officers

New officers were elected for the coming year when the Circleville Junior Garden Club met Monday in Atwater School with 19 members present.

The meeting opened with the club pledge, the slogan and group singing. Nancy Marshall president, conducted the business meeting in which the following officers were elected:

Rod Sines, president; Jill Barch, vice president; Brent Liston, reporting secretary. The committee appointed to plan the program for the year is: Rod Sines, Ann Cook and Elizabeth Moon.

A flower seed project was discussed. The Junior members will assist the Circleville Garden Club with their annual project during Pumpkin Show.

Regular meeting time was changed to the first Thursday in the month and installation of officers will be held during the October session.

Mrs. L. F. Sines and Mrs. Howard Davies will serve as advisors to the club.

Miss Smith, Mr. Hampp Are Engaged

Mrs. Harold Myers, 821 Clinton St., is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Karen Sue Smith, to Mr. Keith Richard Hampp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Hampp, 213 Walnut St.

Miss Smith attended Circleville High School and is employed at Van's Sandwich Shop, E. Main St.

Mr. Hampp also attended Circleville High School and will soon be leaving for service in the U.S. Navy.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Corn Husk Roses Demonstration Set

Mrs. Joe Roberts and Mrs. Chester Roberts of Open Gate Garden Club will demonstrate the making of corn husk roses when the Monrovia Garden Club meets 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Five Points Methodist Church.

All members are urged to attend and anyone interested is invited. Please note the meeting time.

Lutheran Women Observe Annual General Meeting

The fall general meeting of the Women of the American Lutheran Church was held in Trinity Lutheran Parish House, yesterday beginning with a carry in dinner at 6:30 p. m. Pastor Zehner gave the blessing. Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Gast of Columbus were the honored guests.

Mrs. Walter Pickel, second vice president, introduced Mrs. Gast who spoke on Central Ohio Lutheran Welfare.

Mrs. Gast is a former president of the Ohio District of the Lutheran Women. She also helped organize and develop Lutheran Welfare.

She told how a small group of interested women 50 years ago began to help Rev. Flierl of Columbus in his work among needy people. They sewed new garments, remodeled old ones, contributed money to his work, helped him with his calling and is any way possible assisted him.

Their assistance became so important that later on more women in the Columbus area became interested and finally a real organization, supported and sponsored by the Columbus area Lutheran churches was born. Now the work is very great and well known but more help is always needed.

Rev. Bradow has his offices on Gift St. in Columbus. Lutheran Welfare does just what the name indicates — it looks after the welfare of needy people.

But it does much more than that. It also brings the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the assurance that Jesus came for their salvation, as well as for the salvation of others more fortunate than they.

A chaplaincy service is maintained in the hospitals and state institutions; a home for young girls who come to Columbus to work or go to school is maintained on S. High St. in Columbus. Family and marriage counseling service is available for those who need it, a workshop is maintained which employs handicapped people who repair and renovate used clothes, furniture or other articles which have been discarded but can be made usable again. These articles are sold at a very nominal cost so that needy people can feel they are not receiving charity but are trying to help themselves and thus keep their self respect.

An activities school is conducted every afternoon from the time school is out until 5 or 6 p. m. where children can come to learn how to cook or sew or do other crafts and keep them occupied until such a time as their parents would be home to supervise them. Unwed prospective mothers are assisted and unwanted children are placed in Christian homes to receive loving care which every child needs and many do not get.

The speaker said the newest Lutheran Welfare project is just now beginning to materialize after many years of planning and dreaming. It is to be known as Senior City and will be a home of retired people. The plans are that it will accommodate 289 people in a modern, beautiful, comfortable, building where individuals may live the balance of their life in cheerful surroundings without the worry and expense of the upkeep of a home. There will be accommodations for couples as well as single people.

The home is to be located on a large tract of land on the Columbus-Johnstown road, U.S. 62, across the road from St. Mary of the Springs. The building financing is taken care of but the furnishings of the building is to be paid for by the Lutheran churches of the area.

Persons interested in more information about any phase of Lutheran Welfare work may contact the Lutheran Welfare League, 106 S. Gift St., Columbus.

Mrs. Charles Walters, president of the Trinity Lutheran Women, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Fred Gutzat was elected to be the alternate delegate to accompany the president to the Ohio District Convention in Cincinnati on October 10 and 11.

An election of officers resulted as follows: Mrs. Edward Cross, president; Mrs. Russell Skaggs, vice president; Mrs. Melvin Struckman, secretary; Miss Clarissa Talbot, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Penn, secretary of education; Mrs. Merton Lorentz, secretary of stewardship.

The Circles were also re-organized for 1963. Announcements of the Circle chairmen and officers will be made later.

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

When you are using chicken broth in a chilled soup, make sure it is fat-free.

But did you know that you can substitute cooked ham or chicken for the tuna with good results? Use a moderate oven for any of these combinations.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Who Started This Mess?

DEAR ABBY: A no-good tramp is bothering my husband. She is married (this is her fourth husband and has children ranging from 4 to 19 years old. She has been calling him at home until I thought I would go out of my mind. She stopped calling him at home when I threatened to tell her husband. But now she calls him at work. If her husband knew about it he would bust her head open. I would tell him but I am afraid he would harm my husband. Should I tell her husband and let my own husband take his chances? I don't know how much more of this I can stand.

MOTHER OF FOUR
DEAR MOTHER: You seem ready to do a lot of "talking" and "head busting"—but all with the wrong people. Why don't you start with your husband? No man needs to be "bothered" if he doesn't want to be.

DEAR ABBY: Our 15-year-old boy is our problem. He won't do a thing unless he is paid for it. He worked last summer at a garage and we heard all over town what a good worker he was, but if we try to get him to mow the lawn or clean the basement or even his own room he will sneak out of the house before we can catch him. He is too big to spank and too young to throw out of the house bag and baggage (which is what his father thinks will cure him). Should we just put up with this kind of behavior until he is 18 and then let the Army train him?

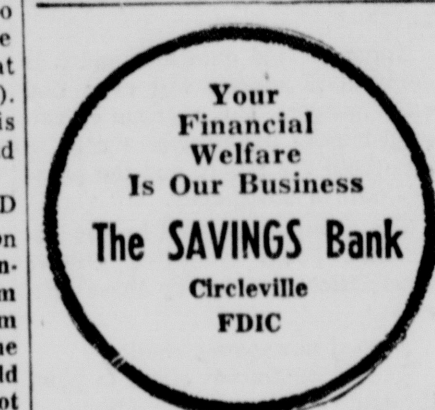

CORNERED
DEAR CORNERED: Your son needs some affection and real understanding. Do you "order" him to do things, or do you ask him properly? I have yet to meet the normal 15-year-old boy who would not respond to a little praise, a lot of love and a modest incentive.

DEAR ABBY: My mother is a very wonderful person, but she isn't very bright. She is an attractive 48-year-old widow who has been going with the same man for three years. He is about 55. His first wife died and he remarried. His second wife left him. He has told everybody in town that he will never marry again. Mother wants desperately to marry him. He has even said in my mother's presence that he will never marry again, but she thinks he is kidding her. How does a daughter tell her mother to quit wasting her time?

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: A daughter can't very well talk to her mother like a "Dutch Uncle." Unless your mother gets wise herself, I doubt if anyone can convince her that this man is not marriage material. Then, too, you never know—men who have said, "I'll never..." are saying "I do" every day.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

No light cream in the house when a recipe calls for it? You may be able to substitute milk plus a little butter.

Lutheran Women Observe Annual General Meeting

The fall general meeting of the Women of the American Lutheran Church was held in Trinity Lutheran Parish House, yesterday beginning with a carry in dinner at 6:30 p. m. Pastor Zehner gave the blessing. Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Gast of Columbus were the honored guests.

Mrs. Walter Pickel, second vice president, introduced Mrs. Gast who spoke on Central Ohio Lutheran Welfare.

Mrs. Gast is a former president of the Ohio District of the Lutheran Women. She also helped organize and develop Lutheran Welfare.

She told how a small group of interested women 50 years ago began to help Rev. Flierl of Columbus in his work among needy people. They sewed new garments, remodeled old ones, contributed money to his work, helped him with his calling and is any way possible assisted him.

Their assistance became so important that later on more women in the Columbus area became interested and finally a real organization, supported and sponsored by the Columbus area Lutheran churches was born. Now the work is very great and well known but more help is always needed.

Rev. Bradow has his offices on Gift St. in Columbus. Lutheran Welfare does just what the name indicates — it looks after the welfare of needy people.

But it does much more than that. It also brings the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the assurance that Jesus came for their salvation, as well as for the salvation of others more fortunate than they.

A chaplaincy service is maintained in the hospitals and state institutions; a home for young girls who come to Columbus to work or go to school is maintained on S. High St. in Columbus. Family and marriage counseling service is available for those who need it, a workshop is maintained which employs handicapped people who repair and renovate used clothes, furniture or other articles which have been discarded but can be made usable again. These articles are sold at a very nominal cost so that needy people can feel they are not receiving charity but are trying to help themselves and thus keep their self respect.

An activities school is conducted every afternoon from the time school is out until 5 or 6 p. m. where children can come to learn how to cook or sew or do other crafts and keep them occupied until such a time as their parents would be home to supervise them. Unwed prospective mothers are assisted and unwanted children are placed in Christian homes to receive loving care which every child needs and many do not get.

The speaker said the newest Lutheran Welfare project is just now beginning to materialize after many years of planning and dreaming. It is to be known as Senior City and will be a home of retired people. The plans are that it will accommodate 289 people in a modern, beautiful, comfortable, building where individuals may live the balance of their life in cheerful surroundings without the worry and expense of the upkeep of a home. There will be accommodations for couples as well as single people.

The home is to be located on a large tract of land on the Columbus-Johnstown road, U.S. 62, across the road from St. Mary of the Springs. The building financing is taken care of but the furnishings of the building is to be paid for by the Lutheran churches of the area.

Persons interested in more information about any phase of Lutheran Welfare work may contact the Lutheran Welfare League, 106 S. Gift St., Columbus.

Mrs. Charles Walters, president of the Trinity Lutheran Women, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Fred Gutzat was elected to be the alternate delegate to accompany the president to the Ohio District Convention in Cincinnati on October 10 and 11.

An election of officers resulted as follows: Mrs. Edward Cross, president; Mrs. Russell Skaggs, vice president; Mrs. Melvin Struckman, secretary; Miss Clarissa Talbut, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Penn, secretary of education; Mrs. Merton Lorentz, secretary of stewardship.

The Circles were also re-organized for 1963. Announcements of the Circle chairmen and officers will be made later.

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Dear Abby: Who Started This Mess?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A no-good tramp is bothering my husband. She is married (this is her fourth husband and has children ranging from 4 to 19 years old. She has been calling him at home until I thought I would go out of my mind. She stopped calling him at home when I threatened to tell her husband. But now she calls him at work. If her husband knew about it he would bust her head open. I would tell him but I am afraid he would harm my husband. Should I tell her husband and let my own husband take his chances? I don't know how much more of this I can stand.

MOTHER OF FOUR
DEAR MOTHER: You seem ready to do a lot of "talking" and "head busting"—but all with the wrong people. Why don't you start with your husband? No man need to be "bothered" if he doesn't want to be.

DEAR ABBY: Our 15-year-old boy is our problem. He won't do a thing unless he is paid for it. He worked last summer at a garage and we heard all over town what a good worker he was, but if we try to get him to mow the lawn or clean the basement or even his own room he will sneak out of the house before we can catch him. He is too big to spank and too young to throw out of the house bag and baggage (which is what his father thinks will cure him). Should we just put up with this kind of behavior until he is 18 and then let the Army train him?

CORNERED
DEAR CORNERED: Your son needs some affection and real understanding. Do you "order" him to do things, or do you ask him properly? I have yet to meet the normal 15-year-old boy who would not respond to a little praise, a lot of love and a modest incentive.

DEAR ABBY: My mother is a very wonderful person, but she isn't very bright. She is an attractive 48-year-old widow who has been going with the same man for three years. He is about 55. His first wife died and he remarried. His second wife left him. He has told everybody in town that he will never marry again. Mother wants desperately to marry him. He has even said in my mother's presence that he will never marry again, but she thinks he is kidding her. How does a daughter tell her mother to quit wasting her time?

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: A daughter can't very well talk to her mother like a "Dutch Uncle." Unless your mother gets wise herself, I doubt if anyone can convince her that this man is not marriage material. Then, too, you never know—men who have said, "I'll never..." are saying "I do" every day.

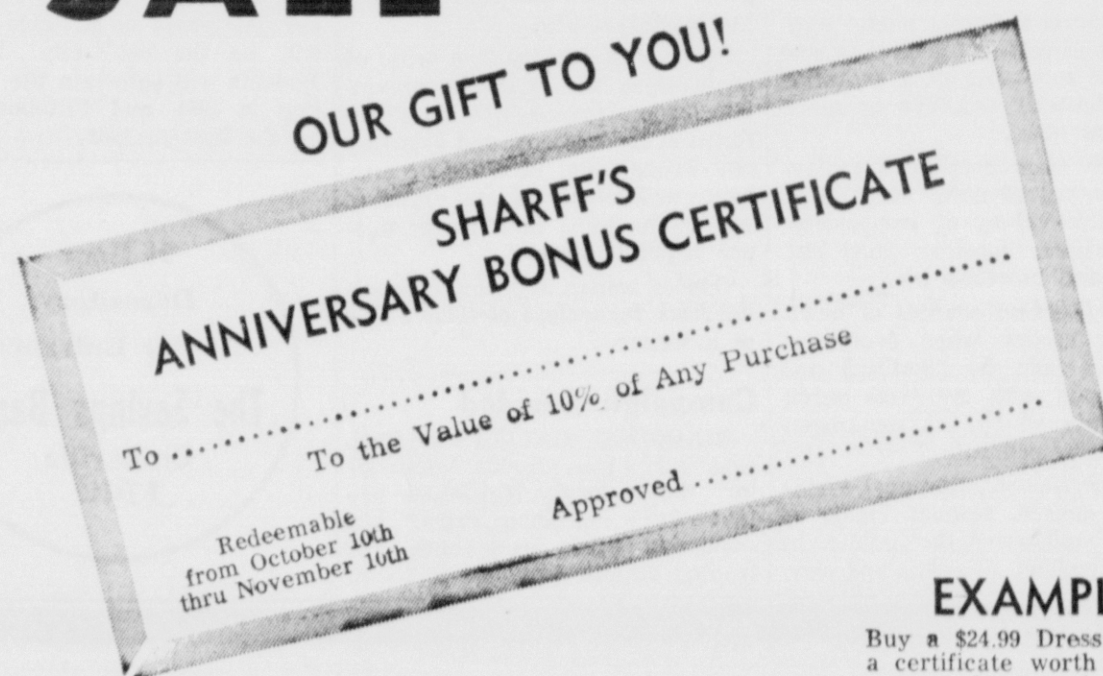

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

No light cream in the house when a recipe calls for it? You may be able to substitute milk plus a little butter.

Purina Plant Has Expanded At Steady Pace Since 1933

Circleville Ralston Purina Plant

EDITOR'S NOTE — As a salute to industry, the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce and The Herald have undertaken to compile and publish a series of background stories on industry and the valuable part it plays in this community. The city is proud of its industries and the vital role they assume in promoting progress here. Today's story describes the large operation of the Ralston Purina Co. plant on S. Court St.

Circleville's Ralston Purina plant was purchased from the Crites Milling Co. in 1933.

At that time the plant consisted of a few of the present buildings. Through the years, extensive changes in manufacturing machinery and processing facilities to obtain high quality finished products have resulted in what actually is a new and modern feed plant.

At present there are 71 persons employed at the Circleville plant, most of them long-time associates with the company. Several hold seniority dating back to acquisition of the plant.

Supervisory personnel, years of service and job assignments are:

ROBERT NORPOTH, 34, accountant; L. D. Varble, 27, plant manager; Glen Hines, 27, production foreman; Lee Cook 25, credit manager; Edwin Bach, 24, personnel and safety director; Kirk Cupp, 24, stock manager; John Downs, 22, maintenance foreman; Roy Farmer, 17, warehouse foreman; Robert Bower, 15, traffic manager; Jack Miller, 14, order department manager; Owen Fuller 13, elevator foreman; Glen Justice, 13, quality control foreman; John McKenzie, 13, plant superintendent; Paul Town, 8, general foreman; Donald Vogel, 6, buyer.

Approximately 275 different Chow products are offered to the Ralston Purina System of franchised dealers who are serviced out of the Circleville plant.

In addition there are 165 sanitation items which are manufactured at a Ralston Purina plant in St. Louis, then warehoused and distributed from the Circleville location. These shipments are made

Family Affair

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky State Fair opened a new rocks and minerals exhibit this year and that's all the Rexford Layne family was waiting for. Layne, son Christopher, 13, and daughters Beverly, 12, and Kathi, 10, and Layne's father Raymond Layne, won every ribbon in the event. Mrs. Rexford Layne recently completed a course in geology so she, too, could know how to collect rocks.

Homing Turtle

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP) — A pet turtle — painted a distinctive color and the property of the W. H. Nelson family — was taken 10 miles from home after it began eating vegetables in the home garden.

Three days later it was back in the yard — eating vegetables.

to franchised Purina dealers across the eastern two-thirds of Ohio, the western half of Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Virginia and the northern portion of Kentucky.

Presently the local plant has a capacity of 175,000 tons per year and uses 70 different ingredients to manufacture a complete line of Purina Chows. Many of these raw products come from far corners of the world to be blended and mixed according to exacting quality standards established by the company.

Immediate plans for expansion call for the building of new bulk facilities to better serve the firm's customers. There also is a continual plan for improvement and modernization of all production facilities in order to stay abreast of the most modern methods of animal feed production.

The Ralston Purina Co. was founded by William H. Danforth in 1894 when he started selling a mixture of carefully selected oats and ground corn with a little molasses mixed in to make horses like it better. This early product was sold under the slogan "Cheaper than Oats — Better than Corn."

BY 1918, five plants had been built in strategic milling centers, around the country, including those at Buffalo, Nashville, Fort Worth, East St. Louis, Illinois and St. Louis, Mo.

During the 1920's, Purina established a research farm at Gray Summit, Mo., which is still in operation today and has played host to millions of visitors. By the end of 1949, a total of 40 Chow plants, 15 soybean plants and two cereal plants were in production. The company also had entered in full scale the cereal business as well as the soybean processing business.

Today, Ralston Purina has 45 Chow plants in the United States and Canada, four cereal plants and nine soybean plants. The company currently produces more than 5 million tons annually.

Recently the firm has expanded internationally — establishing plants in Mexico, Columbia, Venezuela, Argentina, France, West Germany and Italy.

In addition to manufacturing a complete line of animal feeds, Purina produces dog food and an extensive list of cereals. Recently the company acquired entry into the poultry business, purchasing several hatching, breeding and processing plants in the southern part of the United States.

An interesting sidelight of the Ralston Purina Co. is the establishment of its Checkerboard trademark. When founder William Danforth was a young lad, a family native to his hometown in southeastern Missouri always purchased material by the bolt. They always made sure it was a distinctive checkerboard pattern.

THE FAMILY came to be identified by this checkerboard pattern of clothing. When Danforth established Ralston Purina, he also selected the checkerboard as a distinctive trademark.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Cloudy skies and ground fog were general over Ohio early today, and temperatures were mostly from the mid-40s to the mid-50s.

Temperatures at daybreak were from 43 at Columbus to 55 at Cleveland.

A weak high pressure area was centered to the west. It will bring mostly fair to partly cloudy weather to Ohio today through Thursday.

Afternoon readings today and Thursday will be mostly in the upper 60s. Winds will be light and variable today, and small craft warnings have been lowered on Lake Erie.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average about five degrees below normal. Normal minor day-to-day temperature changes. Rainfall will average about one-fourth of an inch in showers Saturday or Sunday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average five degrees below normal. Normal high 72-79, normal low 50-54. Rather cool with only minor day-to-day temperature changes. Rainfall will total about one-fourth of an inch mostly towards weekend.

In selecting the checkerboard, the founder built around it his four square pattern for living which he personally exemplified. His advice for living a four square life was by fulfilling the four sides of the checker — "Live Tall, Smile Tall, Stand Tall and Think Tall."

IT SURE IS CORN — Taking a long, hard look at a special variety of hybrid corn is Wilford Hartley, an agricultural employee at one of Wilmington College's experimental farms. Some 100,000 other farm folks will be studying similar ears from test plots at Peelle Memorial Farm on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Occasion is Farm-Orama, an educational demonstration that includes working exhibits from major farm equipment companies, showing off the newest of machinery and farm techniques. Last year, "Flying Farmers" organizations brought in more than 100 airplanes per day at the Farm-Orama airstrip.

Nicholas Drive PTA Organizes

A slate of officers was selected during an organizational meeting of the Nicholas Drive Parent-Teacher Assn.

The nominating committee was composed of Mrs. S. C. Measamer, Mrs. Charles Ressler and Mrs. Vernon George. Elected were:

Mrs. Otto Guenther, chairman; Mrs. Earl Palm, co-chairman; Mrs. Willard McConaughy, secretary; Mrs. Waldo Martin, treasurer.

Mrs. George Myers was named chairman of the health committee and Mrs. Forrest Hoffman was elected to head the refreshment unit.

Program and project chairman and other committees will be announced later.

The need for pianos in each of the rooms was also stressed at the meeting.

The group moved to buy an encyclopedia to be placed in the school library.

Bilingual Bombay was split into two states — Gujarat for the Gujarati - speaking people and Maharashtra for Marathi adherents.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States' predicament with Fidel Castro has always been double: how to do something about him and how to save face if it doesn't. It's an embarrassed contemplation.

Now, like a man determined to drive a neighbor to distraction with gradual torments, Premier Khrushchev has added one more jolt to the American embarrassment.

He let Castro announce Tuesday the Soviet Union and Cuba plan to build a port somewhere on Cuba's coastline as headquarters for a joint Russian-Cuban fishing fleet.

The immediate American reaction is: just a fishing fleet?

It was bad enough when Moscow announced some weeks ago it was sending arms to Castro along with technicians to teach the Cubans how to use them. This brought heated demands in this country for a Cuban invasion.

President Kennedy thought they were overheard. He said the weapons so far were just the defensive kind. Congress, after appropriate reflection, has been content to settle for a resolution.

It will say something to the effect that the United States will use force if necessary to stop any expansion of communism from Cuba to the rest of the Western Hemisphere.

Thus no American action—at least overt—appeared to be in the works at this time.

But the thought of a Russian fishing fleet patrolling the American coast—with all that the presence of such a fleet could imply—will probably cause new outbursts of American exasperation.

It is easy to imagine the form it will take:

That the new port may in reality become not a fishing base but a Russian naval base.

That the Russian vessels will range all the way from electronic Peeping Toms, looking in the American window, to naval caravans landing Communist guerrillas on the shore of Latin-American republics.

All this in time may be true, and the very nearness of the Russian ships is ominous, but the United States will still probably feel compelled to show restraint for a variety of reasons.

Any direct assault by the American giant on Cuba with a population of only seven million would give Khrushchev the finest propaganda harvest he's gathered since the cold war started.

There has been no outburst of enthusiasm in Latin-American countries, which this country is so anxious to protect from communism, for direct action to throttle Castro.

And, since this country is anxious to be considered a good neighbor and a good influence to its Latin neighbors, it can ill afford to be considered a baleful one, which it might if it resorted to invasion.

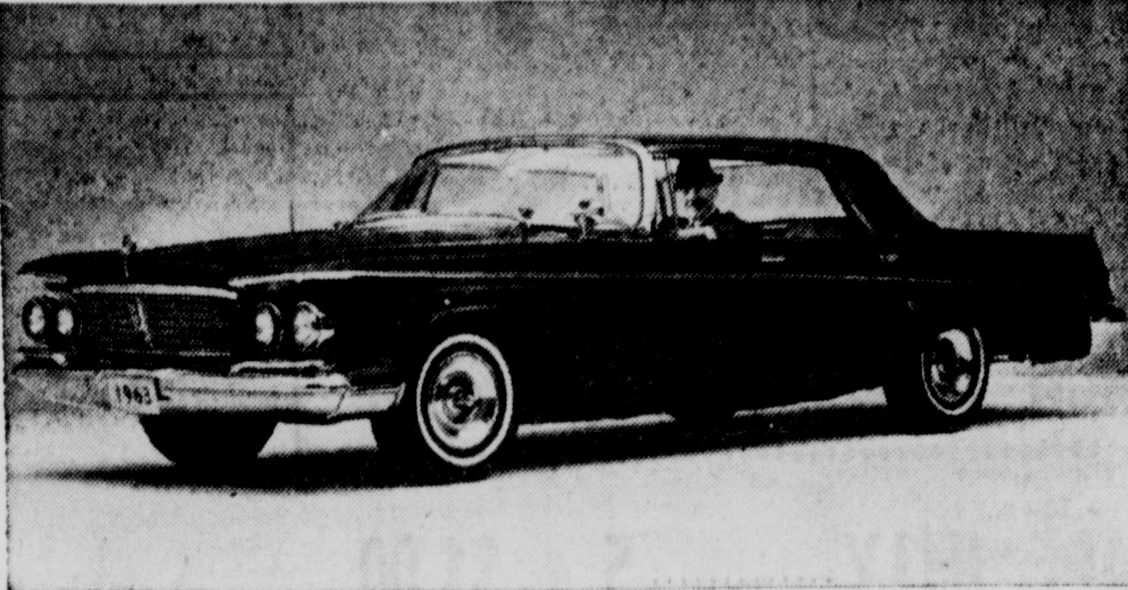

In addition there is the little matter of the Russian threat of war if the United States hits Cuba. This may be strictly bluff. Naturally, the United States must be hesitant to assume so, since the results could be ghastly.

Yet, having said all this, the American predicament is painful. The United States has been asserting leadership of the Americas. Its hope of success in Latin America is based on the hope its leadership will be accepted and respected, two conditions practically synonymous.

But here's tiny Cuba, just 90 miles off the American coast, defying gigantic Uncle Sam, pecking out from under the wing of Khrushchev to call names.

The longer this goes on, the more the loss of face for the United States. There's a limit to how much more it can lose without jeopardizing Latin-American respect, which could be as disastrous as anything else.

Thus the United States can lose something if it acts and something if it doesn't. While it ponders, the best it can expect is more indignities from both Khrushchev and Castro.

IMPERIAL OFFERS SIX MODELS — Six models are being offered in the 1963 line of Imperials in three series, Custom, Crown and LeBaron. The engine is a 413 cubic-inch 340 horsepower V-8. The '63 Imperial has a new roof structure, new rear end styling treatment, more interior room for passengers and more luxurious interiors. New parking brakes are on the rear wheels and a transmission parking sprag is introduced. The new Imperial can be seen this weekend at Joe Moats Motor Sales.

Knights Host Wiener Roast

Thirty members of St. Joseph's CYC were guests at a wiener roast and hayride Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Thornton, Route 2, sponsored by Hannan Council No. 5297, Knights of Columbus.

The CYC members were taken by bus from St. Joseph's School to the country home of the Thorntons. Thornton is grand knight of the local K of C unit.

Msgr. George Mason led the group in singing "old favorite" songs around a huge bon fire. The group was also treated to a hay ride and refreshments.

Tickets for the State Youth Campaign were distributed to all present.

Chaperones for the event included Mr. and Mrs. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. William Rich, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Koester, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shea, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Whaley, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Rayburn, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Kohlbeck and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lake.

Winter Now Descending on Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — The central heating came on in Moscow this week and Muscovites began redeeming their winter coats at the state hockshops.

The masses of pedestrians were back in their drab topcoats and raincoats soaking up the last weak rays of autumn sunlight that occasionally broke through between chilling rain storms.

Daytime temperatures are nippy and nights are cold. The first snowfall is just a few weeks away. From then on, the ground will be covered almost daily with a new blanket of snow.

State employees and workers, fresh from month-long vacations, began gathering enough cash to get their winter clothes out of hock. This is a common practice in the Soviet Union, the only

Ohio Pledged $176,952,100 In Road Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The federal government has promised Ohio another $176,952,100 — the largest amount yet—for use in building four-lane divided expressways of the Interstate Highway System.

Ohio's Department of Highways can plan how to use the money now, but it can't touch it until the fiscal year starting next July 1. For the present fiscal year, the State Highway Department has $16,400,000 to work with.

Under terms of the 1956 Interstate Highway Act, the federal government pays 90 cents of every dollar of basic construction cost. The 41,000-mile superhighway network is scheduled to be completed in 1972 and link every major city in the United States.

In the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1964, Ohio is scheduled to receive $18 million. Thereafter, the scheduled amounts are $190 million (July 1, 1965), $197 million (July 1, 1966) and $204 million (July 1, 1967).

Communist country to preserve that old capitalist institution, the pawn broker. They are called "Lombardi," after usurers of medieval Italy.

Russians who need cash for vacations and lack room in their cramped living quarters to store winter things usually show up at one of Moscow's five hockshops in early summer.

For a nominal interest charge, clothes are stored for the winter. The only worry is getting up the cash to buy them back before winter sets in.

Some folks are shopping for fur hats—a must for Russian winters. The style has moved away from the traditional peasant's shapka with the earflaps to a jaunty high-crowned number copied from the Swedes.

Old-fashioned valenki (Felt boots) also are disappearing. The women are wearing leather ankle-high shoes with felt inner linings. The most stylish ones, at 5 rubles — about $9—are imported, mainly from Czechoslovakia.

The males are turning to ordinary rubbers over their shoes or to rubber storm boots and galoshes, derisively called "farewell-to-youths" by the younger set.

Housewives in the cities soon will be washing their windows for the last time before stuffing up the cracks with cotton or pasting paper strips over loose-fitting frames. This annual ritual is dictated by the Russian dread of winter drafts. Shops will hang up heavy curtains over doorways.

GE Settles All Claims Filed by U.S.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—General Electric Co. has signed a consent decree with the federal government, thereby becoming the first to settle all civil and criminal cases arising out of the federal antitrust indictments in the sale and manufacture of heavy electrical equipment.

GE, the nation's largest electrical firm, still has pending against it scores of damage suits brought by its customers—private utilities and governmental units—for alleged overcharges during the period of antitrust violations.

The consent decree—which must still be approved by the presiding judge in the case—stipulates that GE will not fix prices, rig bids or otherwise violate the antitrust laws in the manufacture, distribution or sale of heavy electrical equipment.

Donald G. Balthis, head of the government antitrust division here, recommended approval of the consent decree and said this would complete the civil and criminal action against GE in this case.

Balthis also asked the court to sign 17 other similar consent decrees involving 1 other electrical firms which produce—with GE—the bulk of the equipment used to generate and distribute electricity in this country.

The decrees stem from criminal convictions of the companies earlier this year for fixing prices and rigging bids in violation of federal law. The firms then were fined nearly $2 million and seven executives were jailed for less than 30 days.

$44 Million OK'd for Erie Renewal Job

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Erieview urban renewal project here is eligible for $44 million in federal aid, according to the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Washington.

A spokesman said Monday that Robert C. Weaver, head of the agency, reaffirmed the project's eligibility in a reply to Louis Hunter, an assistant director in the General Accounting Office.

Hunter had raised the question of Erieview's eligibility for federal aid, contending that many of the buildings to be condemned as substandard did not present any danger to the health and safety of the occupants.

Spokesmen for the agency and the Urban Renewal Administration in Washington said Weaver told Hunter that the question of substandard buildings is only one of the criteria involved in eligibility for federal aid. Others, he said, include neighborhood blight, obsolescence and other "environmental deficiencies."

GE Settles All Claims Filed by U.S.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—General Electric Co. has signed a consent decree with the federal government, thereby becoming the first to settle all civil and criminal cases arising out of the federal antitrust indictments in the sale and manufacture of heavy electrical equipment.

GE, the nation's largest electrical firm, still has pending against it scores of damage suits brought by its customers—private utilities and governmental units—for alleged overcharges during the period of antitrust violations.

The consent decree—which must still be approved by the presiding judge in the case—stipulates that GE will not fix prices, rig bids or otherwise violate the antitrust laws in the manufacture, distribution or sale of heavy electrical equipment.

Donald G. Balthis, head of the government antitrust division here, recommended approval of the consent decree and said this would complete the civil and criminal action against GE in this case.

Balthis also asked the court to sign 17 other similar consent decrees involving 1 other electrical firms which produce—with GE—the bulk of the equipment used to generate and distribute electricity in this country.

The decrees stem from criminal convictions of the companies earlier this year for fixing prices and rigging bids in violation of federal law. The firms then were fined nearly $2 million and seven executives were jailed for less than 30 days.

$44 Million OK'd for Erie Renewal Job

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Erieview urban renewal project here is eligible for $44 million in federal aid, according to the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Washington.

A spokesman said Monday that Robert C. Weaver, head of the agency, reaffirmed the project's eligibility in a reply to Louis Hunter, an assistant director in the General Accounting Office.

Hunter had raised the question of Erieview's eligibility for federal aid, contending that many of the buildings to be condemned as substandard did not present any danger to the health and safety of the occupants.

Spokesmen for the agency and the Urban Renewal Administration in Washington said Weaver told Hunter that the question of substandard buildings is only one of the criteria involved in eligibility for federal aid. Others, he said, include neighborhood blight, obsolescence and other "environmental deficiencies."

Nasser Shares Powers over Arab Republic

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser has tapped his long-time political aide, Aly Sabry, to head a new collective leadership as prime minister. Nasser will retain over-all power as chief of state in the United Arab Republic.

In a radio-television address to lay aside his administrative duties to devote more time to building what he calls an Arab brand of socialism.

The speech was billed in advance as filling in details of the national charter he announced last May. In that charter he promised to broaden his regime through collective leadership, free elections and an equitable distribution of wealth.

It was the broadest overhaul of government machinery since Nasser and his band of young officers sent King Farouk from the throne into exile with the coup of 1952.

Sabry was appointed head of a new Executive Council which collectively will assume executive power, Nasser said. In effect, this makes Sabry prime minister and chief of government.

Also created, however, was a presidency council headed by Nasser to have responsibility for policy and over-all planning.

The Executive Council decisions will be collective and Sabry will be unable to act on his sole authority, Nasser emphasized.

Self-Employed Pension Bill OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed Tuesday a compromise bill to grant self-employed persons tax advantages on personal pension funds. The vote was 61-0.

The bill, as redesigned by a Senate-House conference committee last week, is estimated to cost the Treasury $15 million a year in revenue and potentially, to benefit as many as 7 million self-employed persons such as doctors and lawyers. It could also benefit some 11 million employees of such persons.

The bill would allow deduction from taxable income of one-half the amount invested in a pension fund up to a maximum of $2,500 annually—so that $1,250 would be tax free. Self-employed persons who employ others would have to provide a pension plan for such employees in order to take advantage of the tax deduction for themselves.

Teays Valley To Host Tough Madison South

Vikings Set Sights On Fourth Victory, Loop Contender Spot

The Teays Valley Vikings will host a strong Madison South football unit Friday in a second Darby Valley league contest for both teams.

Madison South, a pre-season choice as a top contender for the DVL crown along with West Jefferson, features a strong offensive attack.

The M-S squad has scored seven touchdowns, made four conversions and kicked one field goal in three games to date, while limiting opponents to four touchdowns.

Marion Waites, Viking mentor, said the Madison Countians run a great deal and pass effectively. They have completed five of 12 aeries for 79 yards.

THE VIKING scouting reports show that they have a better than average fullback and a left halfback with good speed outside.

Waites says the Vikings will need another fine defensive showing to win Friday. He also claimed they will have to make fewer mistakes offensively.

The Vikings have limited their three previous opponents to less than 100 yards rushing in each game. Last week, in their initial league encounter, the TV defensive unit held Triad to only 63 net yards.

However, the Vikings have not exhibited a spectacular offensive punch, scoring only four touchdowns in three games. They prefer to grind out their yardage with a "three yards and a cloud of dust" type offense.

Waites feels that the home field advantage, coupled with a highly partisan crowd may give his well conditioned grid unit enough "desire" to win the game.

A win for the TV football team Friday would label them as definite contenders for the league crown.

Due to a first year debut for both the team and the coach, the Vikings were lightly regarded as contenders prior to the season.

Liston Chalks Up KO in First Round Over Patterson

CHICAGO (AP)—A new Charles (Sonny) Liston today promised to be a world heavyweight champion in shining armor and also to give Floyd Patterson a rematch as soon as possible.

A cruel-punching strong man, Liston, 28, slammed the door of sudden fame on a shady past Tuesday night by exploding the long-suspected Patterson myth in 126 seconds of their huddled title match in Comiskey Park.

In the third fastest finish in heavyweight boxing history, 2:06 of the first round, Liston crumpled Patterson to the canvas with a couple of ponderous left hooks.

Before a disappointing paid crowd of 18,894 and a whopping closed circuit television audience had time to dig into their popcorn, the fight had ended in stunning fashion.

Perhaps not so stunning, because it long was felt that the canny Cus D'Amato, Patterson's guiding angel, had wrapped his boy in cotton. Floyd's championship path mainly avoided what real punchers were around since Patterson, then 21, first won the crown in 1956 by flattening an overfatted Archie Moore.

Ingemar Johansson, whose "toonder right" unexpectedly de-throned Patterson in 1959, best described D'Amato's boy against the hulking Liston, who out-weighted the champion, 214 to 189.

"Patterson looks like a little baby tonight," said Ingo, who may get a shot at Liston after the new champ has his return match with Patterson.

Patterson, whose catastrophic finish had been foreshadowed in 12 knockdowns in previous title bouts, wants another go at Liston within three months.

That could be a big mistake, except that, financially, Patterson could swell his lion's take as a loser by sharing a 3-3 split of the return match receipts.

Liston is ready at any time.

Liston had rushed over to Patterson after referee Frank Sikora threw his arms around the wobbly ex-champion following his knockout count.

"He told me if the public gives me a chance, I can be a worthy champion, maybe a better champion than he was."

"I think I can prove just that—if the public gives me a chance," added the poker-faced Liston.

The Comiskey Park gross receipts were announced as $665,420 and the net $556,119.95.

The big swag comes Thursday when the closed circuit television reports are filed. Patterson's take on the basis of the live gate and a guaranteed $2 million from television was an estimated $1,185,253 and Liston—pegged at a 12½ the final race.

Weatherly skipper Bus Mosbacher Jr., rated the best man in the world at handling a skittish sailing ship into the wind, jumped off to a lead within minutes after the start.

take of all net receipts — should get a minimum of $282,015.

"If the public will allow me a chance to let bygones be bygones, I could be a good champ," said the surprisingly poised new champion.

As for the fast and stunning finish, Liston said "I started it with a left hook and ended it with a left hook."

"I hit him with a left hook and he tied me up," said Liston. "The referee said to break and he grabbed the ropes. That gave me the idea he was hurt and I lit him with a couple of good lefts. That was it."

Asked about the contracted return bout, Liston said "it was too quick" even to think about the time and place, but added "I'd like one as soon as possible."

They have a return clause calling for the second fight within a year.

"I don't want to wait a year," said Patterson. "Maybe within three months."

The shocked ex-champion kept newsmen waiting for about 30 minutes following the startling finish while he talked in his dressing room with Manager Cus D'Amato, the man who started him on the road to the title.

"I will know in about a week about a return fight," said Patterson. "Liston's punches are something you see coming. I was hit by a good punch and it had some kind of effect. Liston is in a better position to know. I have no excuses."

U.S. Taxmen Grab Receipts Of Title Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hundreds of federal revenue officers fanned out across the country Tuesday night and this morning in a massive drive to seize the entire proceeds of the Liston-Patterson heavyweight title fight.

The aim was to collect $3.9 million in taxes which the government claims is owed by the fight promoters.

The Internal Revenue Service announced that officers moved in Tuesday night on about 260 theaters throughout the country which collected an estimated $4 million from patrons who watched Sonny Liston win the heavyweight championship from Floyd Patterson. The fight was telecast over a closed-circuit network.

The theaters were instructed to turn over all receipts from the TV show to IRS.

Other agents, in an unprecedented move, served levies against the promoters of the fight and the organizers of the TV showings, demanding that all receipts be handed over to the government.

Thus, IRS acted to grab the entire gate receipts from the one-round bout at Chicago's Comiskey Park, as well as fees paid by the American Broadcasting Co. for rights to cover the fight via radio.

IF IRS collects as much as it expects, it will receive an estimated $5 million or more. However, it would have to refund part of this amount later to the promoters and TV organizers because tax claims total a lesser amount — $3,885,000.

Booster Unit OKs Whirlpool Bath for CHS

Officers and directors of the Circleville Booster Club this week approved a vote to purchase a new whirlpool bath for Circleville High School.

The decision climaxed a long effort by the Boosters to obtain the bath. The piece of equipment will be available to all athletic teams at CHS.

Initial efforts to purchase the whirlpool gear, designed to aid the treatment of minor injuries, was presented about five years ago. The purchase was blocked mainly until this year due to lack of funds.

A successful membership campaign this year produced about $1,200 for the Booster treasury. A telephone vote completed yesterday disclosed that all directors favored the purchase.

RALPH STARKEY was scheduled to make an immediate survey of equipment available in Columbus. He previously had contacted Ernie Biggs, head trainer at Ohio State University, to obtain additional information the best type of bath to buy.

Officials at the high school have indicated that space and facilities are available to provide adequate installation.

According to Booster President John Jenkins, the whirlpool outfit will cost in the neighborhood of $500. He said the purchase and installation should be completed within the next few days.

Starkey and Snap Ankrom had been assigned to make a study and gather information as groundwork for the eventual purchase. Both have termed the bath as essential equipment in helping coaches treat the many minor bodily injuries that crop up during the various athletic seasons.

British Praise Sugar in Defeat

LONDON (AP) — British fight fans talked again today of the ring artistry of Sugar Ray Robinson and almost felt sorry that their own brash young Terry Downes had shattered the Sugar Man's latest comeback bid.

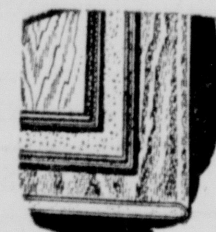

Downes, 26, former holder of part of the world middleweight title, scored an overwhelming victory over the veteran Robinson at London's Indoor Wembley Stadium Tuesday night, but most of the cheers were reserved for "his sugarship," as one headline writer called him.

The normally partisan London crowd gave Robinson a great ovation as he left the ring and local fans were today calling for a return fight between the two.

Over the years, West Virginia has the best football percentage in the Southern Conference. In 12 years the Mountaineers show 35 victories, 12 setbacks and 1 tie for a .739 percentage.

Logan Elm Will Square Off With Laurelville on Friday

Logan Elm, owner of two wins and one loss, returns to Scioto Valley Conference football play Friday night by hosting neighboring Laurelville.

Laurelville has yet to win a game. The Friday tilt will be the Wildcat's first in Scioto Valley competition.

In other games played, the Hocking County school has lost to New Lexington St. Aloysius, 22-8, and to The Plains of Athens County, 26-0.

The Braves, after suffering a 20-14 defeat in their season lull with The Plains of Mt. Sterling, have rolled to wins over Paint Valley 30-8, and New Lexington St. Aloysius, 14-0.

KEITH MERRIN, Logan Elm coach, and assistant Dow West, have been stressing pass defense in practice this week.

The Braves defenders have allowed 17 pass completions in the past three games. The Plains of Mt. Sterling completed four of 11 attempts, Paint Valley completed six of 11 and St. Al completed seven of 15.

Merrin feels that Laurelville, although not a passing team, may take to the air Friday.

Laurelville is the host team but the game will be played on the Logan Elm gridiron.

One's Body For Research

Q. Where can I get details of the necessary procedure to will my body to a medical school for research and study?

A. Write to the National Society for Medical Research, 920 South Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. This organization publishes a booklet "How To Donate Your Body for Medical Science." Some states have laws permitting persons to bequeath their bodies without interference from relatives after death. In other states, disposal of one's body is in the hands of the closest relative.

Eye Circles

Q. I can always tell when it's my time — the skin around my eyes gets dark. Is this normal?

A. Yes. Dermatologists have long been aware of facial darkening which occurs in girls at puberty, and which comes and goes with the menstrual cycle. Observations made on a group of college women showed about half experienced cyclic skin changes. The skin around the eyes and nipples is most commonly affected. If you want a scientific explanation, the changes are probably due to periodic increases in secretion of the melanocyte-stimulating hormone by the pituitary gland.

Yellow Jaundice

Q. Why are people who have had yellow jaundice rejected as blood donors? Does the disease leave lasting impurities in the blood?

A. Not necessarily. This is simply a precautionary measure. Jaundice (yellowing of the skin) can be due to various causes—from virus infection (which could be transmitted to another person via blood transfusion) to simple obstruction of bile passages in the liver. Virus-caused jaundice is not known to leave long-lasting impurities in the blood. Even so, it just seems best to avoid taking even the slightest risk involved in using blood from a person with a history of jaundice of any type.

Cancer Not Catching

Q. If a man has cancer and his wife becomes pregnant can the disease be transmitted to the wife or the unborn child?

A. No.

What drugs will your next prescription call for? Because no one can answer this question, we carry thousands of prescription drugs in stock so those prescribed for you will be instantly available.

The decision climaxed a long effort by the Boosters to obtain the bath. The piece of equipment will be available to all athletic teams at CHS.

Initial efforts to purchase the whirlpool gear, designed to aid the treatment of minor injuries, was presented about five years ago. The purchase was blocked mainly until this year due to lack of funds.

A successful membership campaign this year produced about $1,200 for the Booster treasury. A telephone vote completed yesterday disclosed that all directors favored the purchase.

RALPH STARKEY was scheduled to make an immediate survey of equipment available in Columbus. He previously had contacted Ernie Biggs, head trainer at Ohio State University, to obtain additional information the best type of bath to buy.

Officials at the high school have indicated that space and facilities are available to provide adequate installation.

According to Booster President John Jenkins, the whirlpool outfit will cost in the neighborhood of $500. He said the purchase and installation should be completed within the next few days.

Starkey and Snap Ankrom had been assigned to make a study and gather information as groundwork for the eventual purchase. Both have termed the bath as essential equipment in helping coaches treat the many minor bodily injuries that crop up during the various athletic seasons.

British Praise Sugar in Defeat

LONDON (AP) — British fight fans talked again today of the ring artistry of Sugar Ray Robinson and almost felt sorry that their own brash young Terry Downes had shattered the Sugar Man's latest comeback bid.

Downes, 26, former holder of part of the world middleweight title, scored an overwhelming victory over the veteran Robinson at London's Indoor Wembley Stadium Tuesday night, but most of the cheers were reserved for "his sugarship," as one headline writer called him.

The normally partisan London crowd gave Robinson a great ovation as he left the ring and local fans were today calling for a return fight between the two.

Over the years, West Virginia has the best football percentage in the Southern Conference. In 12 years the Mountaineers show 35 victories, 12 setbacks and 1 tie for a .739 percentage.

Logan Elm Will Square Off With Laurelville on Friday

Logan Elm, owner of two wins and one loss, returns to Scioto Valley Conference football play Friday night by hosting neighboring Laurelville.

Laurelville has yet to win a game. The Friday tilt will be the Wildcat's first in Scioto Valley competition.

In other games played, the Hocking County school has lost to New Lexington St. Aloysius, 22-8, and to The Plains of Athens County, 26-0.

The Braves, after suffering a 20-14 defeat in their season lidlifter with The Plains of Mt. Sterling, have rolled to wins over Paint Valley 30-8, and New Lexington St. Aloysius, 14-0.

KEITH MERRIN, Logan Elm coach, and assistant Dow West, have been stressing pass defense in practice this week.

The Braves defenders have allowed 17 pass completions in the past three games. The Plains of Mt. Sterling completed four of 11 attempts, Paint Valley completed six of 11 and St. Al completed seven of 15.

Merrin feels that Laurelville, although not a passing team, may take to the air Friday.

Laurelville is the host team but the game will be played on the Logan Elm gridiron.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear husband, Rev. William W. Buskirk, who passed away Sept. 26, 1962. One and a half years have passed. Since the day you went away. The shock still lingers in our hearts, and we miss you more each day. They said time heal all sorrow, and will help us to forget. But time and fate has only proved. How much we miss you yet. Sadly missed by wife, Mary, and children, Guy, Ida, Rosetta and Bill.

AP Guesspert Says OSU Too Good for NC

Notre Dame, Army Ticketed for Defeat On Gridiron Saturday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Can you ever recall a greater midweek sports extravaganza? Title fights... yacht racing... pennant clinchings... college and pro football classics!

It is enough to make one dizzy. At least dizzier than last week when 36 of 42 college football games that reached a decision were forecast correctly. That's an opening-of-the-season average of .857.

Here are this week's picks:
Ohio State over North Carolina: The Ohioans were the Big Ten champions last season and have added the stars from the 1961 freshman team, one of the best ever, to their roster. The Big Teners are too big, too numerous and too good.

Princeton over Rutgers: These two started it all back there in 1869. For the past three years Rutgers has beaten Princeton but this time the Tigers get revenge.

Oklahoma over Notre Dame: The Irish still tinkering with their backfield. Oklahoma especially strong along the line which is led by Wayne Lee at center. The day's television morsel.

Syracuse over Army: It will take more than Chinese-style red hats to stop fullback Jim Nance. Miami over Texas Christian: Two of the country's best quarterbacks, George Mira of Miami and Sonny Gibbs of TCU tangle with Mira getting the more help.

Michigan State over Stanford: The Stanford comeback is de-railed temporarily by a Spartan aggregation whose starters are the equal of any in the country.

Penn State over Air Force: The Pennsylvanians have center Joe Galardi and halfback Al Gursky injured but they won't be missed as the Lions move on toward a sweep of the service academies.

Mississippi over Kentucky: Jim Dunaway, Ole Miss tackle, is a living roadblock.

Georgia Tech over Florida: With Bill Lotz riding along the driving and Dave Watson directing the traffic up front, the Yellow Jackets are too much for the Gators.

Minnesota over Missouri: The Big Eight team surprised the Gophers, who went on to win the Rose Bowl game, a year ago. This time the element of surprise will be gone, but so is Sandy Stephens. However, Minnesota has enough left.

Alabama over Tulane: The Alabama defense is as tough as a dollar steak.

Washington over Illinois: The Huskies, like the New York baseball Yankees have an M-M combination. For Washington the names are Mitchell and Mansfield.

Texas over Texas Tech: Without trouble.

Southern California over Southern Methodist: The Trojans learned how by spilling Duke last week.

Clemson over North Carolina State: Clemson has two quarterbacks and NC State no longer has Roman Gabriel.

Louisiana State over Rice: The Rice Owls spilled the Tigers last year but they can't do it two years in a row.

Spahn Points To New Marks
MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee wonder Warren Spahn has reached another milestone in his fabulous career and has no intentions of ending his assault on baseball records. Already he's looking forward to 1962.

"I'm not ready to quit; I want to win 20 next year," Spahn said Tuesday night after he tied Eddie Plank as history's top left-handed pitcher.

Oregonia Paces Mile In 2:12, Wins Toga
LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Oregonia won the featured pace at Lebanon Raceway Tuesday night, stepping the mile in 2:12 and paying $23.20.

Second-place Guy Star returned $9.50 and rock chief was worth $3.40 for show.

The USGA reports that 87,562,000 rounds of golf were played during 1961.

IN THE COMMON PLEAS COURT, PICKAWAY COUNTY, OHIO
Beulah Lucille Stout, Plaintiff, vs. Robert Balthaser, et al., Defendants.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE
In pursuance of an Order of Sale in partition issued out of the common pleas court of Pickaway County, Ohio, wherein Beulah Lucille Stout is plaintiff and Robert Balthaser, et al., are defendants, and being Cause No. 23313 in said court, I will offer at public sale, on the premises, on Saturday, the 3rd day of November, 1962, at 2:00 p.m., the following described tract of land consisting of thirty (30) feet off the south end of Lots Number Thirteen (13) and Fourteen (14) of the Addition to the Village of Ashville, Ohio.

Being the same premises conveyed to A. B. Cooper by Deed of Charles F. Brinker and Lida Brinker, his wife, by Deed dated July 31, 1919, and recorded in Deed Book 98, page 272, of the Deed records of Pickaway County, Ohio.

For reference to the title of Adeline B. Cooper in the real estate above described, see Certificate of Transfer of Real Estate, recorded in Vol. 131, page 480, of the Deed records of Pickaway County, Ohio. Reference is also made to a Quit Claim Deed recorded in Vol. 131, page 481, of the Deed records of Pickaway County, Ohio.

Premises are also known as 39 Bortz Street, Ashville, Ohio. Said premises are appraised at Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000) and must be sold for not less than two-thirds (2/3) of the appraised value.

TERMS OF SALE: Ten per cent (10 per cent) of the purchase price to be paid to the Sheriff immediately upon the sale and of the balance of the purchase price to be paid to the Sheriff upon confirmation of the sale by the Court and the delivery of the Deed.

WALTON W. SPANGLER, Sheriff of Pickaway County, Ohio.
Harry L. Margulis, Attorney for Plaintiff

State Ready For Lawsuit Against Reds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy's office says that court action will be lushed to upset the sale of the Cincinnati Reds baseball team to William O. DeWitt, president and general manager of the National League club.

Theodore Saker, first assistant attorney general, said a break down in negotiations for an out-of-court settlement led to McElroy's decision.

Saker said efforts failed to get an assurance that the team will remain in Cincinnati. He added that deposition taking will start today in Cincinnati.

McElroy asked $5,500,000 damages from DeWitt and trustees of the Crosley Foundation, owner of the baseball club since the death of Powell Crosley Jr. The damage suit was brought in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court last June.

The attorney general said he filed the action because statute requires him to supervise operations of charitable trusts, such as the foundation.

Spahn Points To New Marks

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee wonder Warren Spahn has reached another milestone in his fabulous career and has no intentions of ending his assault on baseball records. Already he's looking forward to 1962.

"I'm not ready to quit; I want to win 20 next year," Spahn said Tuesday night after he tied Eddie Plank as history's top left-handed winner and stopped Los Angeles Mets 7-3 for his 326th lifetime victory.

With a start against Pittsburgh scheduled for Saturday, the 41-year-old pitching marvel has a chance to become undisputed king of the southpaws before heading for his Hartsborne, Okla., ranch for the winter.

Oregonia Paces Mile In 2:12, Wins Toga

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Oregonia won the featured pace at Lebanon Raceway Tuesday night, stepping the mile in 2:12 and paying $23.20.

Second-place Guy Star returned $9.40 and rock Chief was worth $3.40 for show.

The USGA reports that 87,562,000 rounds of golf were played during 1961.

State Ready For Lawsuit Against Reds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy's office says that court action will be lashed to upset the sale of the Cincinnati Reds baseball team to William O. DeWitt, president and general manager of the National League club.

Theodore Saker, first assistant attorney general, said a break down in negotiations for an out-of-court settlement led to McElroy's decision.

Saker said efforts failed to get an assurance that the team will remain in Cincinnati. He added that deposition taking will start today in Cincinnati.

McElroy asked $5,500,000 damages from DeWitt and trustees of the Crosley Foundation, owner of the baseball club since the death of Powell Crosley Jr. the damage suit was brought in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court last June.

The attorney general said he filed the action because statute requires him to supervise operations of charitable trusts, such as the foundation.

Dakota Prairie To Hold Missiles

MINOT, N.D. (AP) — The roar of heavy machinery is breaking the prairie silence in central North Dakota, and towns of under 2,000 population are bustling with new business.

It's all caused by a $136.3-million missile site—one of 21 around the nation.

This site is for Minuteman nuclear missiles—the one the Air Force tags "firecrackers with a guidance system."

Most of the sites are in the less-populated central part of the country, where the impact on smaller towns is explosive itself.

Xenia Barber To File Brief In Rights Case

XENIA, Ohio (AP) —The defense attorney for Xenia barber Lewis E. Gegner has 10 days to file a brief before Judge Warren C. Young begins studying the requested judicial review of an Ohio Civil Rights Commission order.

The commission ordered Gegner to cut the hair of Paul Graham, a Negro chemist from nearby Yellow Springs, charging he has violated the revised public accommodations laws.

Gegner, however, said the law violates his constitutional right because he would have to learn how to cut Graham's hair and his appealed for a review of the commission ruling.

Judge Young, of Warren County Common Pleas Court, opened the proceedings Monday in the Greene County Court here. After hearing arguments by Ted Saker, assistant state attorney general, Young gave defense attorney Harry Kyle of Xenia 10 days to file his side of the dispute.

Saker charged that the defense based on not having the skill "is a shame to mislead the court." Saker said it makes no difference whose hair is being cut.

Cincinnati Convicted in Murder Trial

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Criminal jury has convicted John A. Cooper, 42, former Fernald atomic plant worker, of second-degree murder in the beating death of his stepson.

Cooper sat without emotion Tuesday as the verdict was read. It came after two hours and 25 minutes of deliberation.

His attorney, Harry Mellwain, said he would file for a new trial. Judge Simon Leis deferred sentencing Cooper until later.

Cooper was accused of killing John C. Jackson, 20, in a fight Jan. 21 in their North College Hill home after an argument about vacations.

The prosecution contended Cooper cut up the body and strewed the parts along roadsides in Georgia and Florida.

He was also charged with mutilation of a dead body but was tried first on the second-degree murder charge.

Conviction carries a penalty of life in prison.

Bike Rider Treated

Willard Seymour, 21, Williamsport, was the only person receiving emergency treatment at Berger Hospital yesterday. He injured his right shoulder when he fell from his bike. He was treated and released.

Franklin PTA Meet

The Franklin - Mount Parent-Teacher Association will meet 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the Kindergarten room at the School.

Harsha Reports

Immediate Blockade of Cuba Is Urged in New Resolution

Rep. William H. Harsha, Ohio Sixth District, today introduced to Congress a new resolution calling for an immediate blockade to Cuba.

Harsha called upon Congress to revise its present Cuba Resolution and put some backbone in it. He said "as it is drawn, the resolution is little better than nothing—a week expression of policy that scrapes the Monroe Doctrine and recognizes a foreign regime in Cuba."

He added: "It is a far cry from a forceful resolution. The only force displayed was by the State Department in preventing members of Congress from putting some backbone and guts in it."

The Ohioan asserted that the American people aren't fooled by the announcement that the Russian and Cuban arms buildup is a defensive one.

He claimed that nobody but the State Department would believe that the major port Russia plans to build in Cuba is to be used for a fishing fleet base. He reminded that Russian "fishing vessels" were used to spy on American nuclear tests in the Pacific.

"The only thing Russia will be fishing for is strategic information to be used against the United States," he added.

Harsha stated that if America is to remain free from domination by an avowed enemy which openly seeks to destroy us, Russia must be completely cut off from Cuba by blockade. "The need is for a action and action now. This nation has wavered long enough," he said.

He charged that "vacillation, indecision and irresoluteness will not solve the problem, only prolong and aggravate it."

He said words will not deter Khrushchev. "Fear to act never did and never will win a victory; it only makes defeat more certain and much more costly," he claimed.

Harsha urged congress to adopt the new resolution.

Working People May Receive SS Benefits under New Rule

E. H. Biedenholz, district manager of the Chillicothe Social Security office, said today that one million eligible people over 65 years of age have not yet applied for their social security payments. Many have not applied because they are still working, he added.

However, since last year it has been possible for many older people to collect their full or partial retirement benefits even though they still work, he said.

Biedenholz continued to say that under the present law, those eligible for social security retirement payments may earn up to $1200 a year and still receive all benefit checks for the year. If earnings are over $1200, the new rules frequently permit the payment of some social security benefits. The amount payable depends on how much over $1200 a person earns and on the amount he would normally receive from social security each month.

For each two dollars of earnings between $1200 and $1700 only one dollar of benefit payments is withheld. For earnings above the $1700 level, one dollar of benefits is withheld for each one dollar of earnings.

ONE example, Biedenholz stated, would be a married couple who are both 67 years old, fully retired, and eligible for $1800 a year in social security benefits. Even if the husband went to work and earned $2,000 a year, he and his wife would be entitled to social security benefits of $1250 for the year under the new rule.

Biedenholz extended an open invitation to persons who want to figure out how much they may receive in social security benefits even though they are working, to visit his offices at Chillicothe.

City Court Fines Three Motorists

Circleville Municipal Court listed three traffic offenders who were fined yesterday.

Cited by the State Highway Patrol were:

Charles McCray, 41, Ashville; $15 and costs for speeding 50 miles per hour in a 35 mile zone.

Delbert R. Scott, 19, Columbus; $10 and costs for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Rodney L. Diehl, 21, Chillicothe; $25 and costs with $10 of the fine suspended for operating a motor vehicle with defective brakes.

Copters Lift

ing at the Cork dockside were ambulances, doctors and a police escort.

Most of those brought ashore appeared to be suffering from leg injuries.

One of them, Sgt. Ralph E. Bates of Wurtland, Ky., said: "I don't remember much about the crash. It was certainly a shock."

The injured were taken to Mercy Hospital for treatment.

One of the helicopter pilots brought an urgent call from the Celerina for medical supplies.

The Celerina also said it was in great need of 100 pounds of meat, 50 pounds of rice and 50 pounds of flour to feed its unexpected guests. Arrangements were quickly made to send these supplies to the ship.

One of the survivors said on landing that contact with gasoline which spilled from the ditched plane had burned many who plunged into the sea, though there was no fire.

This account, by Pvt. William F. McGlothorn of Cottage Hill, Fla., indicated the probable basis for an erroneous British report that there was a fire aboard the Celerina in which two persons were injured.

"We are most of us badly burned," McGlothorn said. "There was no fire on the plane or on the Celerina, but while we were in the water after the ditching, the fuel was all around us. The high octane gasoline burned our bodies and the pain was bad. It even dissolved most of our clothes."

Saker charged that the defense based on not having the skill "is a shame to mislead the court." Saker said it makes no difference whose hair is being cut.

Cincinnati Convicted in Murder Trial

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Criminal jury has convicted John A. Cooper, 42, former Fernald atomic plant worker, of second-degree murder in the beating death of his stepson.

Cooper sat without emotion Tuesday as the verdict was read. It came after two hours and 25 minutes of deliberation.

His attorney, Harry McIlwain, said he would file for a new trial. Judge Simon Leis deferred sentencing Cooper until later.

Cooper was accused of killing John C. Jackson, 20, in a fight Jan. 21 in their North College Hill home after an argument about vacations.

The prosecution contended Cooper cut up the body and strewed the parts along roadsides in Georgia and Florida.

He was also charged with mutilation of a dead body but was tried first on the second-degree murder charge.

Bike Rider Treated

Harsha Reports

Immediate Blockade of Cuba Is Urged in New Resolution

Rep. William H. Harsha, Ohio Sixth District, today introduced to Congress a new resolution calling for an immediate blockade of Cuba.

Harsha called upon Congress to revise its present Cuba Resolution and put some backbone in it. He said "as it is drawn, the resolution is little better than nothing—a week expression of policy that scrapes the Monroe Doctrine and recognizes a foreign regime in Cuba."

He added: "It is a far cry from a forceful resolution. The only force displayed was by the State Department in preventing members of Congress from putting some backbone and guts in it."

The Ohioan asserted that the American people aren't fooled by the announcement that the Russian and Cuban arms buildup is a defensive one.

He claimed that nobody but the State Department would believe that the major port Russia plans to build in Cuba is to be used for a fishing fleet base. He reminded that Russian "fishing vessels" were used to spy on American nuclear tests in the Pacific.

"The only thing Russia will be fishing for is strategic information to be used against the United States," he added.

Harsha stated that if America is to remain free from domination by an avowed enemy which openly seeks to destroy us, Russia must be completely cut off from Cuba by blockade. "The need is for a action and action now. This nation has wavered long enough," he said.

He charged that "vacillation, indecision and irresolution will not solve the problem, only prolong and aggravate it."

He said words will not deter Khrushchev. "Fear to act never did and never will win a victory; it only makes defeat more certain and much more costly," he claimed.

Harsha urged congress to adopt the new resolution.

Working People May Receive SS Benefits under New Rule

E. H. Biedenholz, district manager of the Chillicothe Social Security office, said today that one million eligible people over 65 years of age have not yet applied for their social security payments. Many have not applied because they are still working, he added.

However, since last year it has been possible for many older people to collect their full or partial retirement benefits even though they still work, he said.

Biedenholz continued to say that under the present law, those eligible for social security retirement payments may earn up to $1200 a year and still receive all benefit checks for the year. If earnings are over $1200, the new rules frequently permit the payment of some social security benefits. The amount payable depends on how much over $1200 a person earns and on the amount he would normally receive from social security each month.

For each two dollars of earnings between $1200 and $1700 only one dollar of benefit payments is withheld. For earnings above the $1700 level, one dollar of benefits is withheld for each one dollar of earnings.

ONE example, Biedenholz stated, would be a married couple who are both 67 years old, fully retired, and eligible for $1800 a year in social security benefits. Even if the husband went to work and earned $2,000 a year, he and his wife would be entitled to social security benefits of $1250 for the year under the new rule.

Biedenholz extended an open invitation to persons who want to figure out how much they may receive in social security benefits even though they are working, to visit his offices at Chillicothe.

City Court Fines Three Motorists

Circleville Municipal Court listed three traffic offenders who were fined yesterday.

Cited by the State Highway Patrol were:

Charles McCray, 41, Ashville; $15 and costs for speeding 50 miles per hour in a 35 mile zone.

Delbert R. Scott, 19, Columbus; $10 and costs for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Rodney L. Diehl, 21, Chillicothe; $25 and costs with $10 of the fine suspended for operating a motor vehicle with defective brakes.

Copters Lift

ing at the Cork dockside were ambulances, doctors and a police escort.

Most of those brought ashore appeared to be suffering from leg injuries.

The Celerina also said it was in great need of 100 pounds of meat, 50 pounds of rice and 50 pounds of flour to feed its unexpected guests. Arrangements were quickly made to send these supplies to the ship.

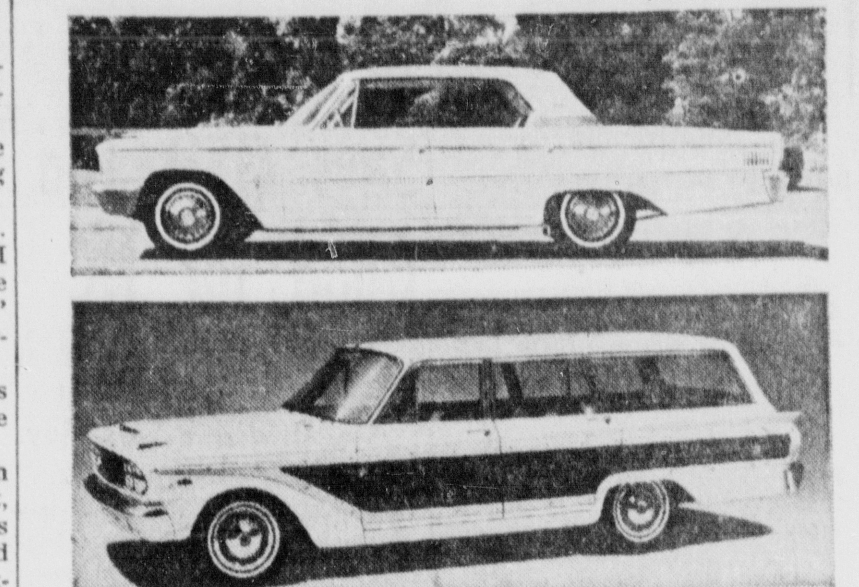

One of the survivors said on landing that contact with gasoline which spilled from the ditched plane had burned many who plunged into the sea, though there was no fire.

This account, by Pvt. William F. McGlothorn of Cottage Hill, Fla., indicated the probable basis for an erroneous British report that there was a fire aboard the Celerina in which two persons were injured.

"We are most of us badly burned," McGlothorn said. "There was no fire on the plane or on the Celerina, but while we were in the water after the ditching, the fuel was all around us. The high octane gasoline burned our bodies and the pain was bad. It even dissolved most of our clothes."
